Top Of The Morning

Variable cloudiness today with a chance of light snow late this afternoon. High today in the upper 30s. Snow flurries tonight and tomorrow are forecast, with the temperature dropping to 20 and moving back up to the low 30s tomorrow. Probability of precipitation is 40 per cent today and 50 per cent tonight and tomorrow. Over the weekend, the high recorded was 36 on Sunday; Saturday's high was 32 and yesterday's top was 34. Lows were 11 on Saturday, 27 on Sunday and 29 yesterday. Total precipitation was .1 inches. The river yesterday was at 3.3 feet and rising, after spending the remainder of the weekend falling.

WARREN COUNTY

Holiday traffic accidents in Warren County were kept to a minimum by safe driving. Only three were reported from Saturday, with only one person taken to Warren General Hospital with injuries. Page One.

STATE

A head-on collision last night at Bath, N.Y., killed four men and injured six others. At least three of the dead were from McKean County: Chester McCauley, 44, of McKean; Milford Howard, 66, of Eldred; and Fred Wolff, 18, of Port Allegany. Identity of the others involved was not immediately available.

The 151st General Assembly convenes today to consider the problems of Pennsylvania. Gov. William Scranton will deliver his farewell address and Gov.-elect Raymond Shafer will preside over the Legislature as Scranton's lieutenant governor. Shafer spent much of the weekend with legislative leaders, discussing the Assembly's program for 1967. Chief among the items to be considered is revamping of the state's outdated Constitution. Page B1.

THE NATION

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller began his third term with a 19-gun salute and a speech calling on New Yorkers to join him in building "a just society." In the capital he reenacted a swearing-in ceremony that had been performed quietly the days before in New York City. Page B4.

Ronald Reagan made his debut as the Republican governor of the most populous state in the union in a midnight ceremony with 150 guests, a choir, and 32 television cameras. He had decisively defeated Gov. Edmund G. Brown in November, ending eight years of Democratic rule.

The Navy has some new ideas about what it wants in its warships, and in the process of getting them hopes to force modernization of the American shipbuilding industry. Despite opposition from the maritime industry and Congress, the Navy is asking for several hundred million dollars for a new class of giant amphibious assault ships.

THE WORLD

United States Airmen shot down seven Communist jet fighters over North Vietnam as American Air Force, Navy and Marine planes swarmed over the north after the conclusion of the 48-hour new year cease-fire. No American planes were reported shot down. The Communist planes destroyed were all MIGs, and all were hit by Navy F-4 Phantoms, two-seat fighters carrying air-to-air missiles. It was the most planes the Communists have lost in a single day in the war. A military spokesman in Saigon said 451 United States planes have gone down in the north since Aug. 5, 1964, ten of them shot down by MIGs. Page One.

The South Vietnamese government briefly refused to allow a Pan American World Airways airliner to land in Saigon, and sources said it was part of a harassment campaign to force the United States to give South Vietnam new jet airliners. The planes the Vietnamese are said to want are two jets, for long-range and shorter-range flights, and would cost over $10 million. Page One.

SPORTS

Three of the county's high school basketball teams are in action tonight. Warren travels to Bradford to battle a tough Owl aggregation. Sheffield hosts St. Mary's in an Allegheny Mountain League contest and Youngsville is at home against Corry. Tidoute and Eisenhower are both idle. Page A5.

Alabama, Purdue and Florida were victorious in yesterday's college bowl games. Kenny Stabler threw three touchdowns passes to Al-America end Ray Perkins as the Crimson Tide shocked Nebraska, 34-7 in the Sugar Bowl. The Boilermakers came out of the Rose Bowl with a 14-13 triumph when USC missed a two-point conversion attempt. Sparked by the running of Larry Smith and the passing of Steve Spurrier, the Gators hung a 27-12 defeat on Georgia Tech in the Orange Bowl. Page A5.

Green Bay is an eight point favorite to defeat Kansas City in the Super Bowl at Los Angeles on January 15. The Packers slipped past Dallas to win the National League championship Sunday, 34-27 and the Chiefs ripped Buffalo for the junior circuit crown, 31-7. Page A6.

A new system will be utilized to select Pennsylvania's "Big 33" squad for the annual clash with the Texas high school All-Stars. Fifty of the state's top scholastic gridirers will be divided into two 25-man teams for a training game, with the top 33 slated to see action against the Texans. Page A6.

The track and field world is set for an expected onslaught on most existing United States and World records this year. A complete rundown on the top American stars in each event appears on Page A7.

Fidelismo Changing Doctrine?

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
MIAMI - Premier Fidel Castro, in a speech marking the eighth anniversary of his rise to power, hinted yesterday that his highly personal style of government may be gradually ending.

The Cuban leader, in a two-hour and 45-minute address in Revolution Plaza in Havana, referred several times to "collective task" within the Cuban revolution, which heretofore has been Castro's prerogative.

Other officials would also be keynote speakers at major rallies, Castro said, adding that the rallies would be smaller and less frequent because of their cost.

"It requires a tremendous effort to speak at these multitudinous concentrations," he went on. "This does not mean that I am tired, (but) 15 years of struggle has put a heavy load on the shoulders of a very small group of men and has created a new situation in which we should divide our functions more and more."

Castro said that to speak to the people should "not be a privilege" but a "collective task." He added: "The more we divide responsibilities the more collective experience will be gained."

Reliable reports from Cuba have recently suggested that there is opposition within the Havana regime to what was described as an "exaggerated" cult built around Castro's personality.

The Premier said that in the future calls to attend public meetings would not read "all to the plaza with Fidel," but "all to the plaza with the central committee of the party."

The premier's address, broadcast by Radio Havana, was preceded by a military parade. Castro also mentioned that the parade would not be held every year because the heavy military equipment damaged the pavement and the soldiers were needed for agriculture work.

Commenting on a news report that the United States was allegedly pressuring Britain not to sell Cuba a $30 million fertilizer plant, Castro called it a "cynical, shameless and criminal policy."

"I doubt that the British government will give in," Castro said.

U.S. Phantoms Down 7 MIGs

Best-Dressed: LBJ, Romney

DAPPER ROMNEY

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson was selected yesterday for the fourth time on an annual list of best-dressed men, under the category of statesman.

Two Republicans, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, were chosen under the respective designations of government and civic affairs.

Rotund comedian Jackie Gleason was named best dressed in the field of television.

Others selected by the Fashion Foundation of America were the Duke of Windsor, international society; George Sanders, stage; Dean Martin, movies; O. Wayne Rollins of Wilmington, Del., chairman and president of Rollins, Inc., industry; Leonard Gardner of New York, president of British Industries, Inc., marketing.

Louis Perle, chairman of Puerto Rico's El San Juan Hotel, hotels; Joseph P. Williams, chairman of Uni-Serve Corp., finance; Truman Capote, author; Arthur Jarwood of Baltimore, Md., executive vice president of Raleigh Manufacturers, Inc., business; Louis A. Aloisio of Scarsdale, N.Y., vice president of Thomas Jefferson Life Insurance Co., insurance; and Lance Alworth, flanker for the San Diego football Chargers, sports.

SNAPPY LYNDON

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
SAIGON — United States Air Force pilots shot down seven Communist MIG jets over North Vietnam yesterday in the enemy's worst day of the air war, an American military spokesman said.

No American planes were reported lost as Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots swarmed over North Vietnam after the conclusion of the 48-hour New Year's ceasefire.

The spokesman described the action as "the largest air battle of the war," but said it was not clear if in fact the enemy planes were downed during one dogfight or after a number of different engagements.

All the MIGs were destroyed by F-4 Phantoms — two-seater fighters equipped with heat seeking Sidewinder and radar controlled Sparrow missiles. With a top speed of more than 1,600 miles an hour, the F-4 is the fastest U.S. combat aircraft.

The spokesman said the F-4's encountered the MIGs while sweeping through the Red River Valley. The F-4's had been assigned to protect waves of F-105 Thunderchiefs raiding surface-to-air missile sites throughout the valley.

The spokesman said he had no reports of the results of the strikes on the missile sites or the number attacked. He also said it had not yet been determined how many United States missions were launched into the north yesterday or how soon they were begun after the cease fire ended 7 a.m.

It was not known what model MIGs the Americans had destroyed. U.S. intelligence officers have reported that North Vietnam has some 100 MIGs of which about 30 are MIG-21's which compare favorably with the F-4, and the rest slower but more maneuverable MIG-15's and MIG-17's.

Less than two hours after the ceasefire ended two U.S. Navy destroyers exchanged fire with a North Vietnamese shore battery on the island of Hon Mat.

At 10 a.m. Air Force B-52's dropped tons of bombs on a suspected enemy position in the southern half of the Demilitarized Zone.

Airland ground troops throughout South Vietnam went on the offensive again, but by this evening had reported no significant action.

The spokesman said the naval battle began when batteries on Hon Mat Island opened fire on the U.S.S. Ingersoll at 8:48 a.m. The destroyer and a companion ship, the U.S.S. Maley, maneuvered to avoid the fire, then started shelling the island with their own five-inch guns.

Two Navy F-4's flew in from the carrier Kitty Hawk to drop 750-pound bombs. Later, during the final 18 minutes of shelling, officers on the destroyers said they saw an explosion on the shore, and then heard no more from the enemy gunners. There was no report of damage to either ship.

The seven MIGs brought to 34 the number of enemy planes shot down by U.S. pilots over North Vietnam since June 17, 1965 and was equal to the worst day for the U.S. in the north, last Aug. 7.

By Aug. 12, the U.S. had lost 12 planes for its worst week over the north.

The U.S. spokesman said last night that 451 U.S. planes have crashed in North Vietnam since Aug. 5, 1964. Ten of them were shot down by MIGs, 30 by surface-to-air missiles. Conventional anti-aircraft fire accounted for the remainder.

Hanoi Says U.S. Can't Win War

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
HANOI — President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam declared in an interview published yesterday by the news magazine Der Spiegel, that the United States is becoming daily more "enmeshed" in a war it cannot win.

In a letter to the West German publication sent from Hanoi on Dec. 27, Ho said that the people of Vietnam "are resolved to fight the American aggressors to the uttermost, no matter what sacrifice this fight requires."

"We are going to win," he added. The Vietnamese leader said that his country had the active support of the people of the world, including a growing number of Americans, as well as the "brotherly help" of the socialist nations.

Ho declared that the "responsible" world press is helping show the truth about the Vietnam war, distinguishing between the true aggressors and victims. He said that support for the people of Vietnam was growing stronger in West Germany and offered a "danke shoen" (thank you) as well as a New Year's greetings for German friends of the Vietnamese people.

Ho accused the "American aggressors" of using "the most outrageous materials and weapons to level cities and villages," and of "massacring the civilian population without regard to women, children or the elderly." The Americans, he said, "have destroyed schools, hospitals, churches and pagodas and have shamelessly bombed Hanoi."

The effect of this "aggression," Ho declared, is to draw the people of Vietnam closer together in their resolve to maintain their national independence.

KY WANTS JET AIRLINERS

Saigon Threatens Pan Am

By R. W. APPLE JR.
(C) N.Y. Times News Service
SAIGON — The South Vietnamese government is pressuring the United States to give it new jet airliners, informed sources said last night.

To strengthen its hand, the sources reported, the Saigon administration is planning harassment of Pan American World Airways, the only United States carrier with commercial landing rights at Tan Son Nhut Airport at Saigon.

The first government action came yesterday morning, when officials at the airport forbade Pan America's Flight 841 to land there. Later, backtracking under intense pressure from the United States Embassy, the officials allowed the plane to land but refused permission for passengers to board.

According to track sources, the government has indicated that it would be willing to renew Pan Am's landing rights, which expired Sunday, only if the U.S. were to give it a Boeing 707 intercontinental jet and a short-range jet — perhaps a Boeing 727 or a Douglas DC-8.

The airlines involved would cost upward of $10 million. Air Vietnam, the government-controlled airline, operates a substantial fleet of airliners, most of them obsolete. On the other hand, it uses a single French-built Caravelle jet acquired from Air France several years ago.

The U.S. paid for the overhaul of six Air Vietnam planes last spring, the informed sources said.

In addition, it is understood that the United States government paid for a DC-6 piston aircraft, fitted with executive accommodations, for the use of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. The plane was said to have been ferried across the Pacific last year.

Marshal Ky is reported to have been outraged at the Manila Conference of the leaders of the allies in Vietnam late in October, because he was the only participant who did not arrive in a jet plane. This is reported to have been a factor in the dispute with Pan American.

The U.S. carrier has nine commercial flights a week into Saigon, as well as dozens of military charter flights. So far, the government has made no move to interfere with the charter operations of Pan American or other United States lines.

WELL BELOW PREDICTIONS

Holiday Death Toll Is 426

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New Year's weekend closed last night with the likelihood that deaths on the nation's highways would fall well below predictions.

At mid-evening, with the toll running 20 per cent below the record rate for the 1966 New Year's weekend, the National Safety Council said, "This proves that improvement is possible."

The toll stood at 426 at midnight (EST). The 78-hour holiday period ran from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight yesterday.

A council spokesman discounted weather conditions and credited safe drivers for the lowered death toll.

"Drivers appear to be doing a better and safer job than would be expected on the basis of past performance," he said.

The spokesman said that despite some snow and fog in scattered spots, weather had little to do with the low toll.

Last year, a record 564 fatalities were reported during the New Year's weekend.

The council earlier voiced hope that the final toll would be little more than that of a normal three-day weekend. For comparison, The Associated Press tabulated 381 deaths on the weekend of Dec. 9-12.

The safety council had estimated in advance that motor vehicle accidents would claim between 440 and 540 lives during the three-day holiday period that ended at midnight last night.

Homebound motorists in New England and parts of the Midwest ran into hazardous driving conditions. Some areas were covered with from two to four inches of snow.

An early morning layer of dense fog spread over much of the East.

Last year 564 persons were killed during the three-day New Year's weekend, the largest toll for any year-end holiday. The lowest figure for any three-day New Year's period since World War II was 269 in 1949.

The safety council credited the bad weather last weekend with holding down highway travel over the three-day Christmas holiday when 584 persons were killed. It was the first holiday in the last 10 in which a death toll record was not set.

Bossie's Skating Party Ends With Big Splash

Yesterday was a bad day to ice skate on a pond, especially for a cow.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Livezey, residents of the Russell-Lander road and owners of a custom butchering establishment there, were standing in the kitchen of their home and noticed something bobbing up and down in their pond.

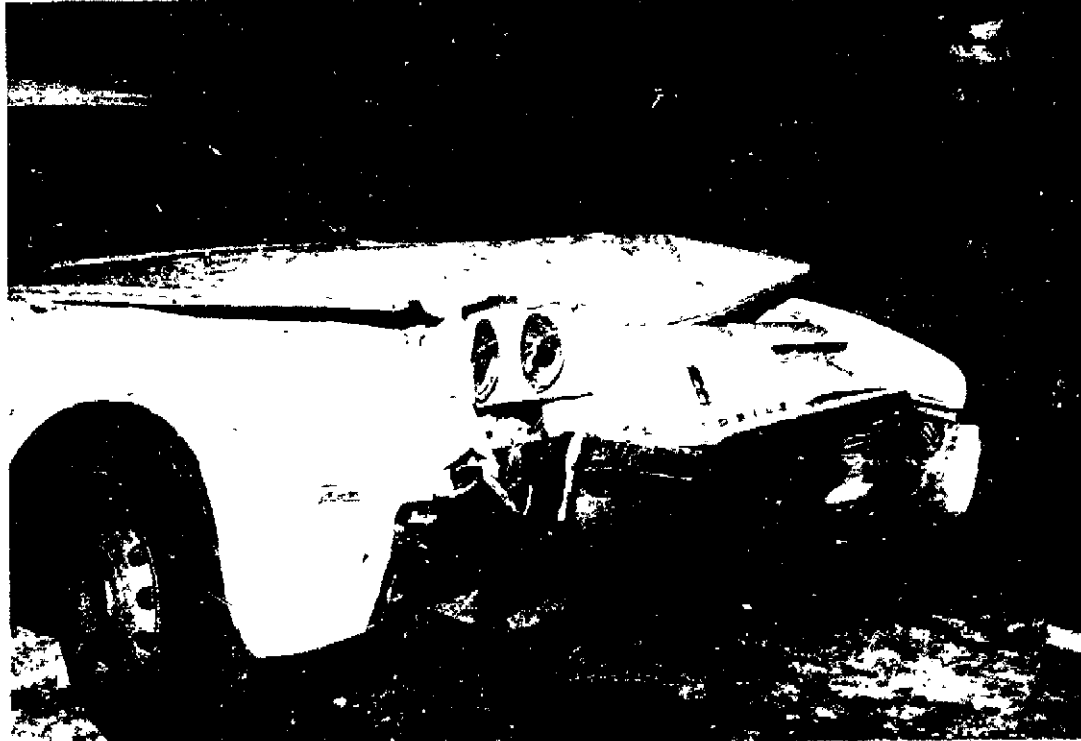

It was the head of a white-faced steer who had wandered onto the ice of the pond and had broken through. Livezey summoned his son, Lowell, who was just preparing to return to the University of Chicago after a holiday at home.

Father and son took a tractor and some rope to pond-side and began a cowboy act. Repeated lassoing attempts failed. Also, they could not reach it with the tractor. The elder Livezey called to his wife to summon Sugar Grove firemen. Meanwhile, neighbors saw the excitement and came to observe and assist.

Firemen soon came from the back road and missed the home. While they were getting their bearings, the younger Livezey had placed boughs across the ice and had succeeded in roping the animal. He then boarded the tractor to pull the cow from the water, while his father steadied the rope.

Firemen arrived at the scene just as the cow was being pulled free.

The Livezeys allowed the animal to rest a bit after coming from the water and then walked him to the barn. Mrs. Livezey reported last night that, although she believed the cow to be a "goon," he was responding and had eaten.

NO DETAILS ON BOROUGH ACCIDENT

Louis Bonace looks at the damage to a vehicle involved in an accident Friday night on Fourth ave. Witnesses at the scene said the above auto was traveling along Fourth and struck a parked trailer in the rear. A passenger in the auto was reportedly taken to Warren General Hospital by North Warren ambulance. Although borough police were said to be at the scene, they refused to make a report of the accident available to the press. (Photo by Mahan)

AND ONLY TWO OF THEM

Warren Accidents Minor

Warren County drivers did not add to the holiday death toll this weekend.

Ralph Edward Peterson, 18, of 698 Kinzua road was taken to Warren General Hospital following his one-car accident at 2:15 a.m. Sunday on Legislative Route 61081 at Russell.

State troopers reported that Peterson was traveling south, failed to negotiate a curve and ran off the highway onto the snow-covered berm. He then lost control of his auto and struck a utility pole, they added, moving the pole six inches. Damage to the auto was listed at $800.

In the final county accident of 1966, autos operated by David K. Rice, 45, of 478 River road and Polly Barton, 17, of Chandlers Valley were involved.

Troopers said Rice was stopped on Yankee Bush road at 8:55 a.m. Saturday at the intersection of Route 69. Rice told police he waited for a southbound auto to pass the intersection and then pulled onto Route 69. He then saw the southbound Barton auto approaching. Miss Barton was unable to keep from striking the Rice auto. Total damage was $1,000.

Around the area, however, the situation was worse. Traffic deaths were recorded this weekend at Meadville, Oil City and Erie.

Bradley J. Elder, 10, of Mill Village, Erie County, was pinned beneath a truck and was suffocated after the vehicle overturned and spilled 24,000 pounds of potatoes on Route 93, 12 miles north of the Crawford County seat. The accident occurred early Saturday.

He had been riding in the cab of the truck with a cousin and his father, who was the driver. The cousin was pinned for nearly three hours.

The truck apparently went off the road into a gully, tossing the two boys from the cab.

Blaine Brumbaugh, 11, of Meadville, was killed and his four-year-old brother seriously injured Saturday afternoon when their sled was struck by a car on a road about a mile from Meadville.

The youths were sledding on

BOTH PRESIDENTIAL HOPEFULS

Romney, Reagan Among GOP Governors Sworn into Office

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Republicans deemed by admirers to possess presidential potential were among state governors sworn into office yesterday from coast to coast.

They are George Romney, who began his third term in Michigan, and Ronald Reagan, a political novice who hit the jackpot in California on his first try for public office.

Nelson A. Rockefeller, who claims to have abandoned his White House aspirations, formally began his third term as Republican governor of New York.

Others sworn in included Republicans Harold Levander in Minnesota, Warren P. Knowles in Wisconsin, Don W. Samuelson in Idaho, and David F. Cargo in New Mexico.

Romney, 59, gave no obvious hint of national political aspirations in a well-attended inauguration in Lansing, Mich. However, he took what some interpreted as a shot at President Johnson's Great Society program by saying: "The people recognize the limitations of efforts to improve the lives of man and their society by material means alone."

In Sacramento, Reagan, a former movie star, became California's 33rd governor. Standing under the capital dome, Reagan, 55, recalled that Benjamin Franklin once said that if someone brought the teachings and precepts of the Prince of Peace to public office, he would revolutionize the world.

"I don't think anyone could ever take office and be so presumptuous to think he could ever do that or that he could follow those precepts completely," Reagan declared. "I can tell you this: I'll try very hard. I think it is needed in today's world."

At one point, Reagan cracked to U.S. Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., "George, here we are on the late show again."

Like Reagan, Murphy is a former film star, whose only exposure to fans these days is via televised old movies.

Rockefeller, 58, used his 20-minute inaugural address in Albany for an attack on Johnson's Great Society, inviting comparison with his own concept of a "just society."

He criticized federal domestic programs which he said "raised aspirations and aroused hopes of many citizens, only to produce grave disappointments."

In Boise, Samuelson, taking over as Idaho's 24th governor, pledged leadership for "a widespread plea to halt fancy and frivolous spending by government."

Knowles, 58, became Wisconsin's first two-term Republican governor since 1954. He promised his administration would have as its goal the pursuit of excellence.

In St. Paul, LeVander, 56, was sworn in as Minnesota's 32nd governor. After a kiss for his wife, Iantha, he continued his preparations for the opening of the state legislature today.

Cargo's cold, windswept inauguration in Santa Fe was marked by his pledge to see that New Mexico lives within its budget and emphasizes "good honest quality government and quality education."

At 37, he is New Mexico's youngest governor in history. He rose in 10 years from law school student to his state's highest office.

ENTIRE FAMILY UNCONSCIOUS

Jamestown Girl Dies from Fumes

JAMESTOWN — A two-year-old girl was found dead Sunday morning in an apartment in which three other persons were discovered unconscious.

Dean Aiken, 2, was found in her crib in a bedroom of the apartment at 1404 Washington st. about 1 p.m. Sunday. Discovered unconscious were the little girl's mother, Mary Aiken, 22; her brother, Keven, one; and a visitor, Henrieta Davis, 29.

The victim's grandmother, Elizabeth Marshall, discovered the four when she called on the family. She entered the house when her knocks went unanswered. Firemen and police were then called.

All of the victims were rushed to Jamestown General Hospital, where efforts to revive the little girl were in vain. The others were admitted in fair condition and were reported responding to treatment.

The Jamestown Fire Department investigating the scene discovered an unvented gas heater with a closed damper in the first-floor apartment. The heater was apparently forcing fumes into the apartment.

Union City Tavern Destroyed

A blaze of undetermined origin fanned Sunday morning through Pinewood Inn, a tavern located on Route 6 about four miles east of Union City.

It caused an estimated $50,000 damage.

The owner, Jack Ryland, who lived upstairs, with his family, received minor facial burns. He managed to lead his wife and three children to safety. Flames and dense smoke spread through the downstairs of the two-story wooden structure.

It took nearly 150 firemen from seven area fire companies to quell the blaze after they had battled for three hours before bringing the fire under control.

Union City fire chief Francis Wontenay reported the cause of the 10:30 a.m. fire was unknown and that Ryland had the furnace checked only a week ago.

The Ryland children reportedly discovered the blaze which was said to have started in a first floor storage room. A considerable amount of money from a busy New Year's Eve was rescued by firemen but the first floor and a part of the second floor was heavily damaged.

Water to combat the fire was supplied by tankers hauled to the scene. Fire crews came from Union City, Elgin, Mill Village, Corry and Waterford rushed to answer the call. Ryland was released from Union City Hospital after he was treated.

Three Held in Assault of Dunkirk Girl

DUNKIRK, N.Y. — Three Dunkirk, N.Y., men are being held in Chautauque County Jail in Mayville to await preliminary examination on felony charges of first-degree criminal assault following an incident last Thursday allegedly involving an 18-year-old girl, according to police.

Charged were William F. Bailey, 20, of 26 Fairview ave.; Edward J. Vacanti, 19, of 419 Leopard st. and William E. Datta, 21, of 17 W. Talcott st.

They were accused of forcing their way into the car of a Dunkirk girl and of forcing her to drive to an isolated area and attacking her, police said.

The girl was reported by police to be in good condition at Brooks Memorial Hospital. Bail was set at $1,000 for each man.

a farm when their sled went onto the road and into the path of the oncoming auto.

Thomas Kahle, 19, of Van was driving north on Route 62 about a mile north of Oil City at a high rate of speed and failed to negotiate a slight curve. The accident occurred at 2 a.m. Saturday.

Although the road was covered by fresh snow, police of the Franklin state police substation said the auto's high rate of speed was the main factor in the crash. The auto struck a concrete abutment.

Gabriel Venturini, 86, of Erie, died of injuries received when he was struck by a car near his home Sunday.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, recently announced the appointment of J.P. Masterson to the new post of regional road foreman of engines in the central region, with headquarters in Pittsburgh. He will be succeeded as assistant superintendent, motive power, Pittsburgh division, by J. A. Park. Masterson is a native of the Pittsburgh area.

Chimney Fire at National Forge

Fire damage was minor yesterday in the second fire at National Forge Co. within nine months.

Youngsville firemen were called to the scene at 6:15 a.m. yesterday, where a defective chimney set fire to the office area. It was the same spot that burned nine months ago.

Three trucks were used and 35 firemen worked one and one-half hours to quell the blaze.

In and Around The Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over 400 scientists and engineers have applied for astronaut training, with only four days left before the Jan. 7 application deadline.

The National Academy of Sciences, asked by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to do the recruiting, issued the deadline reminder yesterday.

Applicants must be U.S. citizens or will be before March 15, no taller than 6 feet, born after Aug. 1, 1930, meet physical requirements for pilot crew members and have a doctorate in the natural sciences, medicines or engineering.

The candidates will be informed in March if they are acceptable.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spending for highway construction, engineering and right-of-way purchases will rise slightly during 1967 while federal highway payments will decline, the Commerce Department said last night.

The department's Bureau of Public Roads estimated capital spending by state and local governments during 1967 at $9.2 billion — up slightly from the $9.1 billion preliminary estimate for 1966. The figure includes $176 million to be spent directly by the federal government for roads on federal property.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation set another record in mineral production in 1966—the fifth year in a row—the Bureau of Mines reported last night.

The volume of output was up for most minerals in 1966 and the cash value soared to a record $22.8 billion, about 6.5 per cent over 1965.

The 1966 gain in financial value was the largest in a decade.

ATLANTIS FLOAT WINS

Rose Parade Held Under Balmy Skies

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A float inspired by Atlantis, legendary island supposedly sunk by an earthquake, won for nearby South Pasadena yesterday the top prize in the 78th annual Tournament of Roses parade.

An estimated one million curbside spectators, many of whom had camped out all night in temperatures that sank to 38 degrees, applauded the two-hour procession of breathtaking floral masterpieces, beautiful girls, blaring bands and costumed equestrians.

Millions more saw it on the three television networks.

Thailand's foreign affairs minister, Thanat Khoman, was grand marshal. Judges awarded the Grand Marshal's Trophy to Thailand's float, "Thailand Welcomes the U.S. Navy Seabees," on which flowers depicted palace and temples of this land of colorful fiestas and beautiful blossoms.

Astronaut Neil Armstrong, Virgil I. Grissom, Eugene A. Cernan and Robert B. Chaffee were on the reviewing stand. All are graduates of Purdue University, whose football team met the University of Southern California in the Rose Bowl after the traditional parade prelude.

Partisan roars rose from the crowd as the two schools' marching bands thundered along Colorado Boulevard, the procession's main route.

Sixty-one floats covered with millions of flowers carried out this year's theme, "Travel Tales in Flowers." The custom started with pioneer Pasadena's floats decorated with home-grown blooms and parading on New Year's Day. Now it climaxes painstaking planning, welding and last-minute covering of floats — the final step meaning Christmas-vacation money for hundreds of college and high school students.

The temperature was 46 degrees under brilliant skies as Khoman, the first tournament grand marshal from another country, signaled the start from the rose-decorated auto he rode with his wife and their three children.

South Pasadena's float, "A Voyage to Atlantis," which won the sweepstakes prize for the most beautiful noncommercial entry, featured eight lovely Grecian maidens seated on bounding floral porpoises. A giant clamshell was fashioned of pink Bewitched roses. In other decorations on the float there were 60,000 white and yellow chrysanthemums, 5,000 carnations and 2,000 blue delphiniums.

The grand prize for the most beautiful commercial entry went to Eastman Kodak for "America the Beautiful," a float depicting American scenes in flowers with photographic effect.

Winds Pile Snow into High Drifts

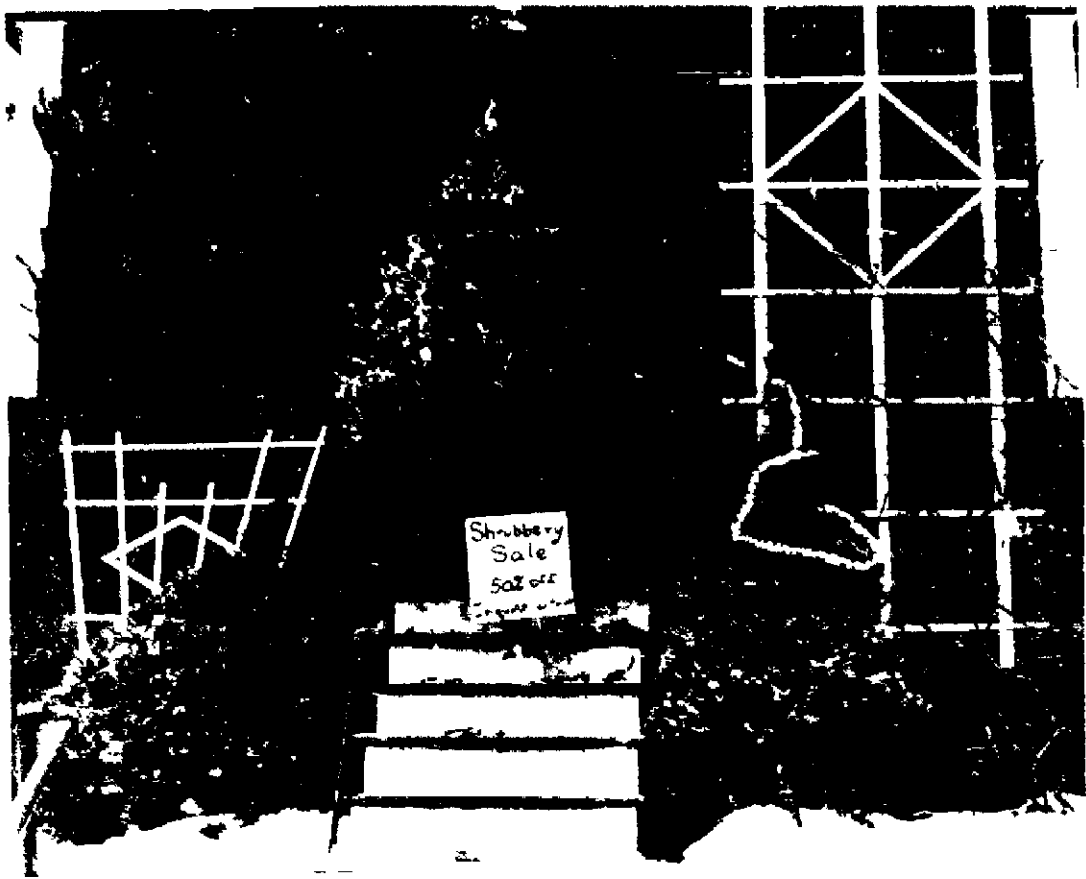

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Strong northerly winds piled snow into deep drifts across the Central Plains yesterday.

Hazardous driving warnings were in effect for parts of Nebraska and Kansas as a new storm moved into the area. The snow amounted generally to no more than one inch or so. But 40-mile-an-hour winds and an old snow cover that was 5 to 10 inches deep combined to pile up drifts that slowed down travel on thoroughfares.

Omaha, and Russell and Concordia in Kansas each recorded one inch of new snow.

A deep white blanket covered nearly all of the northern half of the nation as a result of last week's snowstorms. Minneapolis, Minn., measured 2 inches of new snow in six hours.

The weather forecasters said the Kansas snowstorm would move across the Great Lakes today, but the general fall was not expected to be heavy.

BOY, 14, HELD FOR DELINQUENCY

Girl, 14, Witnesses Murder Of Mother, 2 Others in Texas

By EDEE HOLLEMAN
Orange Leader Staff Writer
ORANGE, Tex. (AP) — For six hours, until relatives arrived, pretty Debi Mayberry, 14, talked continuously, because "then I don't have to think about it."

What she was trying to blurt from her mind was the tragedy she saw Sunday morning when her mother and two other persons were killed and her brother, Craig, 16, suffered serious injuries.

Ronnie Lee Ozio, 14, will be arraigned today in a charge of juvenile delinquency stemming from the three slayings. The youth was charged with delinquency and the complaint listed the three slayings as the reasons for the move to declare him delinquent. Eyewitnesses identified Ozio as the killer.

He can be held by Texas law only if found to be a juvenile delinquent. He could be tried when he reaches 17 for acts occurring earlier, but this is not often done.

Killed were Ronnie Ozio's grandmother, Victoria Ozio, 77; Bobby Mayberry, 35, of Foreman, Ark., Debi's mother and a divorcee who was scheduled to be married to young Ozio's father; and the father, John A. Ozio, 39.

Debi, a 5-foot-2 blonde, is the junior high school cheerleader captain in the small town of Foreman, an almost straight-A student, and favorite date of a star football player.

Woven in with her recollection of the murders were details of her life in Foreman and her family. She told of the nightmare during my 12 hours with her.

Not once did she lose control and her ability to answer the intermittent questions by officers.

Debi said the trip to Orange began Saturday at 4 p.m. when her mother, Craig, Ronnie Ozio and she left Foreman to bring Ronnie back to his father here. The Ozio boy had been visiting in Foreman about two weeks.

They arrived in Orange about 8:30 p.m. Saturday and spent a quiet evening playing checkers and reading comic books. At about 2 a.m., the two families retired.

Debi's next recollection was of hearing a moan from either John Ozio, the father, or Craig, her brother.

She said her mother also awakened and got out of bed. The girl was in bed with her mother.

The next thing she remembers is that Ozio shot her mother twice.

"Then Mrs. Ozio (Ronnie's grandmother who was sleeping in the same bedroom) stirred and asked 'What is it?' and he shot her,"

Debi grabbed her mother as she fell.

"I asked her if she were shot. She said yes, and there was blood everywhere," Debi said.

Debi said she went to the telephone and frantically called the operator for an ambulance.

Military Might Shown Off in Cuban Parades

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba showed off its military might yesterday on the eighth anniversary of Fidel Castro's takeover. A parade featured goose-stepping troops and mobile rocket launchers.

The 34-minute military procession, which included an anti-aircraft rocket launcher shown here for the first time, was the prelude to an anniversary speech by Castro.

Steele-ing The Sports Scene

About The Weekend

Thoughts after a long weekend. . .

The wrestling tournament went pretty much according to form. The Dragons missed their chance for the runner-up spot by failing to come up with enough third places, but all the Blue and White grapplers wrestled well overall.

In fact, the locals' performance may have been their finest to date.

Most pleasant surprise: Corky Greenwood's championship at 154-pounds. Also worthy of note was Lee Bryan's second victory in his last three matches.

Tourney's best wrestler: Either Paul Sater-now (145) or Harold Stockwell (120). The latter, who defeated Warren's Doug Sorenson 4-2 in the finals, had reportedly won 37 of his last 40 bouts and had not been ridden a full period in two years, a feat that Doug accomplished in the last two minutes.

Narrowest escape: Krifty Swan's (165) reversal at the final buzzer to stay undefeated, 3-2.

Most noticeable by their absence: Warren's cheerleaders, although we understand there was some confusion concerning whether or not they were expected.

Not pertaining to the tourney directly, but the grapevine says that the Dragons "defeated" Hickory in a head-to-head team scrimmage on Saturday.

Congratulations are also in order for Mike Weber, his assistants and all others who helped organize the tourney, one of the smoothest running we've witnessed in years. The officiating was also high-quality (Corky Latimer, Ralph Clark and Bill Mulvin).

Then, the AFL and NFL championships: In the junior circuit contest, the running of Mike Garrett and the ease with which Kansas City won were the outstanding features from our point of view.

The lack of defense by both teams was most noticeable in the Green Bay-Dallas side-show. Also the fantastic passing of both quarterbacks. We kept looking for Paul Hornung to make an appearance, but the Packers evidently didn't need him.

In bowl, after bowl, after bowl:

Alabama must be the best number three team in the history of collegiate football. The Tide doesn't have the personnel of either Notre Dame or Michigan State, but they do have more desire, if that's possible. It's evident that 'Bama is No. 1 in at least a single category: PRIDE!

USC's try for the two-pointer in the Rose Bowl must have had all the sportwriters nodding in approval, even though it did fail and the Trojans lost by one point.

The last year in sports gives rise to several suggested resolutions for national and local figures and will be listed in a column later this week.

Three County Teams See Action Tonight

Three of the county basketball teams in action tonight will be facing up-hill battles while the other two squads remain idle until Friday.

Warren will travel to Bradford to meet the tall, talented Owls. Sheffield opens Allegheny Mountain action by hosting strong St. Marys. Youngsville will be looking for revenge as Corry invades the Eagles' hardwood.

Tidioute and Eisenhower will be back in action Friday as the Upper Allegheny Valley League opens.

The Dragons will be out to improve on their 3-4 mark in Bradford. Starting lineup for the Blue and White will come from Scott and Bob Hunter, Mike Hesch, Dan O'Neil, Dan Krumm and Steve Tundell.

Bradford has been aided by the return of 6-7 senior center Tom Yachnich. He was out early in the year with leg trouble. In his first full game back he led the Owls with 37 points to a win over Erie-Strong Vincent, a team that whipped Warren.

Joining the high-scoring let-terman in the lineup will be Alex Nuzzo, 6-1, Ed Crawford, 6-1, John Barry, 6-1 and Terry Sadler, 5-10.

Tar Heels Lose First to Tigers

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Hot shooting Princeton knocked North Carolina's third-ranked Tar Heels from basketball's unbeaten ranks last night 91-81.

The once-beaten Tigers of the Ivy League shot 65 per cent from the floor to 50 for the Tar Heels, who had swept nine in a row. John Hamlow hit 11 of 13 shots and scored 24 points to lead the Tiger barrage. He was helped by Joe Heiser's 19 points and 17 by Chris Thomforde.

Princeton closed a see-saw first half with a 38-37 lead, then fell behind in the second half 56-50. The Tigers regained the lead at 57-56 with 12:24 to play and never lagged again.

Larry Miller bore the brunt of the North Carolina attack, scoring 31 points.

Joe Pfister and John Denning are the top subs for coach Bob Maxson.

Sheffield will have its hands full with the Flying Dutchmen of St. Marys. The visitors have an enrollment of over 600 to 137 for Sheffield.

Coach Nick Creola said that he won't let this affect the outcome of the game. He added that his players "are not scared." Creola also stated that it would take an almost perfect game to beat the big Dutchmen.

Starting for the Wolverines will be Robbie Hart, Mike Stefan, Wayne Swanson, Ray Morrison and Jeff Scallise. Ready to come on and lend a hand will be John Sixt, Ed Cowan and Mark McGuire.

The Wolverines currently have a 6-3 mark with all the wins following three straight losses.

St. Marys has a 5-4 record but its losses have been to Emporium, an unbeaten team, and a pair of Class A teams, Clearfield and DuBois.

Starting for Neil Kemp's squad will be a pair of 6-3 frontcourt players, Bud Brennan and Don Wilhelm, 6-2 muscleman Larry Kunes, Dave DePrator, 5-11 and Pete Evert at 5-10.

Last year, Kunes played for Bennett's Valley, which has since merged with St. Marys. Youngsville will be trying to make up for the poor showing at Corry, where they lost 62-23.

In that game the Eagles were without the services of Denny Walton, Milt Johnson also missed most of the game because of foul trouble. Tonight, those two, along with Ron Knapp, Gary Carter and Bob Chisholm will be in the starting lineup.

Corry will field a veteran ball team with Carl Hillstrom, Tom Zander, Pete McLaughlin, Duane Edwards and Jack Hammond starting. Fred Schwab, a 6-4 sophomore, has been seeing a lot of action.

The Beavers have an 8-2 record as they enter their final game before starting Section II play on Friday. Youngsville, 2-6, also will use this as its final warmup to league play.

'Bama Romps in Sugar ; Purdue Wins Rose

Tide Posts 34-7 Rout Of Huskers

Southern Cal Falls Short On Two-Point Try, 14-13

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Alabama's left-handed quarterback Kenny Stabler hit All-America end Ray Perkins with three passes of more than 40 yards yesterday in an awesome offensive display that crushed Nebraska 34-7 in the 33rd Sugar Bowl football game.

Passes of 45 and 42 yards from the sharp shooting Stabler to his fleet receiver set up two touchdowns before the game was eight minutes old, and it was downhill the rest of the way for Paul (Bear) Bryant's Crimson Tide, scoring their 17th straight victory and playing their 21st game without a defeat.

Alabama, a slashing, explosive team, scored 24 points in the first half and relaxed its grip, permitting Nebraska's lone touchdown — a 15-yard pass from Bob Churchich to Dick Davis — on the first play of the fourth period.

The game ended with Alabama on the Alabama 13 following a fumble recovery by tackle Dick Cole.

The most one-sided Sugar Bowl game was Oklahoma's 35-0 win over Louisiana State in 1950. Georgia Tech scored the most points, beating West Virginia 42-19 in 1954.

Stabler, a junior signal caller in a long line of brilliant Alabama quarterbacks that included Green Bay's Bart Starr and the New York Jets' Joe Namath, completed 12 for 18 passes for 218 yards.

The 6-1, 188-pound Perkins, a dervish who was all over the field, caught seven of the passes for 178 yards.

After piling up a big lead, the third-ranked Alabama team called off the dogs and dipped into its third and fourth team for personnel. Forty-four members of the team saw action.

Steve Davis, the Tide's place kicking specialist, contributed 10 points with two field goals — a 30-yarder in the first period and a 40-yarder in the third — and perfect placements after each of Alabama's four touchdowns.

Les Kelley, scored the first touchdown on a one-yard plunge, climaxing a 72-yard drive with the opening kickoff, and Stabler, a scrambling quarterback, sneaked over from the nine for the second.

All of this action was crammed in the first eight minutes and left the heavier Nebraskans — outweighing Alabama as much as 35 pounds to the man — dazed and disheartened.

Alabama's sub quarterback, Wayne Trimble, who played much of the game, ran six yards for the third score in the second period — after a 71-yard march — and then the brilliant Perkins snared one of Stabler's passes for a 45-yard scoring thrust in the fourth. He caught the ball over his shoulder on about the 10 and raced across.

Stabler was voted the Miller-Digby Award as the game's outstanding individual player in a close vote with his teammate, Perkins.

Perkins signed a $250,000 contract with the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League immediately after the game.

The sinewy Alabama team, chagrined when it lost its national championship to Notre Dame in the final Associated Press poll, gave a tremendous defensive performance that matched its striking offensive power.

Bobby Johns, defensive half-back, intercepted three Nebraska passes in the last half to tie a Sugar Bowl record. Louis Thompson, a 213-pound tackle from Lebanon, Tenn., three times swarmed in to throw Nebraska's quarterback, Churchich, for a loss.

Churchich was a workhorse, completing 21 of 34 passes for 201 yards, but Alabama stopped Nebraska's touted running game. Harry Wilson, the team's leading ground gainer, picked up only 24 yards on four carries. The leading Cornhusker ground gainer was Dick Davis, with 37 yards in 10 carries.

Expect Perkins To Join Colts

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Ray Perkins, Alabama's All-America end, was expected to sign a $250,000, three-year contract with the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League after yesterday's Sugar Bowl game against Nebraska.

Don Kellett, the Col's vice president and general manager, was on hand for the signing of the 6-foot, 183-pound speedster from Petal, Miss.

During his three-year career at Alabama, he caught 77 passes for 490 yards and 12 touchdowns.

He caught nine passes for 159 yards a year ago in the Orange Bowl game in which Alabama beat Nebraska 39-28.

BEAR HUG

Alabama football coach Paul "Bear" Bryant responded with a grin and a hug of his own when Sugar Bowl Queen Marybeth Bodder welcomed him to New Orleans last week. The whole state of Alabama will welcome "The Bear" back after the Crimson Tide rolled over Nebraska, 34-7, in the Sugar Bowl yesterday. (AP Wirephoto)

'Stars, Superstars' Earn Bear's Praise

By BEN THOMAS
AP Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — "This is the greatest college football team I've ever seen or ever been associated with," Paul (Bear) Bryant said yesterday after his Alabama Crimson Tide demolished Nebraska 34-7 in the Sugar Bowl.

"Alabama had stars and superstars," said Bryant, whose team capped an unbeaten, untied season with its Sugar Bowl triumph, a game which was a rematch of the 1966 Orange Bowl. 'Bama won that one 39-28.

The Nebraska dressing room was silent afterwards. End Jerry Patton, a junior from Saginaw, Mich., refused to talk about Nebraska's defeat and just stared at the grey wall.

Cornhusker Coach Bob Devaney was asked if he thought Alabama should have been rated No. 1 in the nation. "I couldn't say anything else," he replied. "I'd be crazy to after the way they played today."

Alabama, the only major college eleven to post a perfect record for the regular season, wound up in third place in the final Associated Press poll. Notre Dame and Michigan State, which played to a 10-10 deadlock, were first and second.

Bryant was asked if he'd like to play Notre Dame in a super bowl game.

"All I'm interested in now is going home and getting out of these wet clothes, but I would have liked to have played anybody today."

"I think we beat a great team in Nebraska, which never gave up, and I didn't think the score would be what it was," continued Bryant. "I was looking for a closer game."

"I'm a coward," he said wryly. "I was still worried up until the fourth quarter."

The poly-pod Devaney told newsmen he had "prayed for rain but we should have prayed for a driving rain."

It rained most of the morning but stopped shortly before the kickoff.

Bryant and Devaney disagreed about the field, which was covered for the past five days.

"I was afraid of the heavy field," said Bryant, while Devaney said the "field was not a factor. The footing was good."

"Bama quarter back Kenny (Snake) Stabler, named the game's outstanding player, said he had no trouble with his footing."

"I thought it was my best game," said Stabler, a left-handed junior from Foley, Ala., who completed 12 of 18 passes for 218 yards.

"I think we could have beaten Notre Dame today."

All-America end Ray Perkins, who caught seven of Stabler's strikes for 178 yards and a touchdown, said, "This was Snake's best game but I was more pleased with my game against Ole Miss this year because I'm from Mississippi."

The Tide whipped Mississippi 17-7 with Perkins catching one touchdown pass for 28 yards from Stabler.

"Nebraska might be great," said Perkins, "but I really

Smith, Spurrier Spark Gator Win

By BEN FUNK
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Larry Smith, a wingfooted sophomore, shattered the Orange Bowl's rushing records last night and outshone his celebrated teammate, quarterback Steve Spurrier, in leading underdog Florida to a 7-12 victory over Georgia Tech.

Smith, the Southeastern Conference sophomore of the year, launched himself on the longest run from scrimmage in the bowl's 33-year history—bolting through the middle for a 94-yard touchdown gallop in the third period.

He wound up with the game's most valuable player award as he ran for 187 yards, breaking the old mark of 160 set by Steve Van Buren of Louisiana State in the 1944 game.

Smith's great performance may have saved Florida because Spurrier, the Heisman Trophy winning quarterback, showed only flashes of his brilliant aerial form.

Not until six minutes before the half did Spurrier, under a quick blitz by the Tech defensive unit, Carson's Raiders, complete his first pass for real yardage — a 27-yard shot to Smith.

Until then, Tech had totally dominated the play and had taken a 6-0 lead on a 10-yard pass from Kim, King to Craig Baynham.

The throw brought Spurrier out of the deep freeze. On the next drive, he took the Gators 66 yards to a go-ahead touchdown scored by Graham McKeel on a one-yard lunge.

Throwing to Jack Coons, Richard Trapp and Paul Ewaldson, Spurrier completed four in a row for 51 yards. Then he sped 13 yards on a keeper to a first down at the Tech 20 to set the score up for McKeel.

The Yellow Jackets put Spurrier back in their pockets in the third period. He didn't complete a pass in that quarter.

But Smith broke the Yellow Jackets' backs with his long run in the third. It was 15 yards longer than the old record dash of 79 by Eddie Kay of Texas in the 1965 game.

Bobby Downs had just come up with his second interception off King, giving Florida possession on its own six. On the first play, Smith shot through the center, shook off one tackler and raced all the way.

Florida made it decisive in the fourth period on a one-yard scoring run by McKeel and a five-yard touchdown pass from

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Purdue escaped with a 14-13 triumph in the Rose Bowl yesterday after Southern California's surprising Trojans gambled for two points in a desperate attempt to win and the move failed.

As a jammed crowd of 101,455 stood in suspense, with 2:28 remaining, Trojan quarterback Troy Winslow in the conservation attempt fired a pass intended for Jim Lawrence.

But Co-Capt. and defensive back George Catavolos rushed in to intercept the throw, and the curtain came down moments later.

Winslow, the far less heralded field general for the Trojans, moved his team to within victory distance with a 19-yard touchdown strike to Rod Sherman with the clock showing 2:28 left.

The drama in this 21st clash in the big bowl between the Big Ten and the Pacific-8 was wrapped up in the final eight minutes, as Purdue, in its first appearance ever in this post-season classic, held off the belated Trojan challenge.

Bob Griese, the Boilermakers' superb quarterback, directed the visitors to their two touchdowns, and fullback Perry Williams slammed over from the one and the two-yard lines for the scores.

Don McCall, Southern Cal's hard hitting halfback, put the Trojans on the board with a 7-7 tying burst over the middle from a yard out.

Purdue, after a scoreless first quarter, drove 57 yards for the first touchdown, and Winslow, McCall, Sherman and mates traveled 44 yards for the tying touchdown just before the half ended.

The Boilermakers went in front 14-7 in the third period and appeared to be home free until the Trojans fired up in the fourth.

Football writers voted John Charles' Purdue's tremendous defensive halfback, as player of the game, an announcement that drew heavy applause from the happy Hoosier fans basking under a bright California sun.

The Boilermakers, two-touchdown favorites, took the opening kickoff and paraded 68 yards in 14 plays, with Griese completing four of six passes.

But the vaunted Trojan defense stopped the thrust on the five-yard line.

Griese and the Boilermakers mounted another drive, rolling 57 yards in 16 plays, and this one produced their initial touchdown.

It took USC two trips into Purdue land before it scored. A fumble by McCall, recovered by the alert Charles, gave Purdue possession on its nine and blunted the first Trojan thrust.

The Trojans came back with another drive, this one for 44 yards and a one-yard blast by McCall for their first touchdown, tying it at 7-7.

The Trojans were helped by a break in midfield. They were lined up to punt on fourth down when a Purdue lineman jumped offside. The five yards gave USC the vital first down, and the drive resumed.

There was still excitement in the wild finish. Purdue had to give up the ball, and with 21 seconds remaining, USC lined up — only to have the officials call time for two reasons: The joyous Boilermaker fans had swarmed onto the playing field, and goal posts at each end had been torn down.

Winslow, however, was thrown for a loss on the final play.

Bay Packer has a shot at $23,500 in the Jan. 15 Super Bowl at Los Angeles, thanks to four touchdowns passes by Bart Starr and a dramatic interception by Tom Brown with 28 seconds to go that saved a 34-27 victory over the Dallas Cowboys.

Vince Lombardi hustled his Packers home after Sunday's game and started to make plans for the Super Bowl game with the Kansas City Chiefs, champions of the American Football League.

The Packers will be favored over the AFL champs who ended Buffalo's two-year reign in the AFL with a 31-7 triumph.

Although official financial figures will not be announced until a later date by Commissioner Pete Rozelle's office, it was estimated that the Packers will get $5,500 a man and the losing Cowboys $5,000 each for their exciting battle in the Cotton Bowl.

The winning share in the Super Bowl at the Los Angeles Coliseum is a guaranteed $15,000 (the losers are assured of $7,000), so the Packers can take home a $23,000 bundle, the largest payoff ever in the history of sports team competition. Only the fighters, golfers and auto racers can make more in one day. As Kansas City's win at Buffalo was worth $5,308.39 a man, the Chiefs can take home over $20,000 if they can knock off Green Bay.

Knocking off Green Bay is somewhat of a problem, although the Cowboys came so close in Sunday's cliff hanger. With a first down on the Packer two and 1:52 to play, Dallas could have sent the game into sudden death overtime with a tying touchdown.

Don Reeves hit to the one and the sellout crowd of 75,504 went into a frenzy. On the next play, a Cowboy lineman moved offside. The penalty against the Cowboys put them back on the six with second down. Don Meredith and Reeves missed connections on a swing pass. Meredith hit Pettis Norman for a gain of four and the ball was on the two with fourth down.

Dave Robinson, the Packers' left side linebacker, broke through and got a hand on Meredith. But he pulled away and got rid of the ball. Tom Brown, the former Washington baseball player, leaped into the air and intercepted for the Packers.

"I had a good grip on Meredith's arm," said Robinson. "I got sick to my stomach when he got the pass off—as far as I was concerned the whole ball game was up in the air. . . . I couldn't see anything except Meredith. Then I heard the crowd. I jumped up and saw Brown getting up with the ball."

The Cowboys had moved from the 22 to the two on an interference call. An official said he called it against linebacker Robinson. Brown, the free safety, thought it was called on him.

"You don't often get a second chance," said Brown. "I did and I guess it's all right now."

The dramatic ending made many overlook Starr's fine work. The veteran of 11 pro seasons was on target all day, completing 19 of 28 for 304 yards and four TDs, throwing short and long on first down, second and third. It was his greatest day.

If there was a lesson for the Kansas City Chiefs in the NFL title game it was—make no mistakes.

Dallas lost the ball once on a fumble. It led to a touchdown by rookie Jim Grabowski. Meredith was intercepted once. It was the ball game.

When they asked Lombardi if the Dallas offense surprised him, he had this comment: "Yes, the points they scored."

The 27 points by Dallas were the most scored against Green Bay all season. Vincent will be taking steps between now and Jan. 15 to make sure that it doesn't happen again.

NOW IT'S MIKE'S TURN
Halfback Mike Garrett hoisted Kansas City coach Hank Stram aloft after the Chiefs had clinched the AFL Western Division crown during the regular season, but Stram must have returned the favor Sunday. Sparked by the running of rookie Garrett and veteran Len Dawson's passing, the Chiefs whipped Buffalo, 31-7 for the junior circuit championship. Garrett scored the last two Kansas City touchdowns to ice the triumph.

PACKERS PLEASE NOTE:

Champion Chiefs Greeted By 12,000 Roaring Fans

KANSAS CITY (AP)— In the East, where they can't feel the excitement that's gripped this city, the oddsmakers have assigned the Green Bay Packers an eight-point advantage over the Kansas City Chiefs in the Super Bowl.

They weren't at the airport Sunday night when 12,000 fans almost stopped all landings by crowding the field to welcome home the city's first American Football League champions.

The National League champs drew 2,500 when they returned from their 34-27 title victory over the Dallas Cowboys.

Nor did the gamblers apparently talk with Fred Arbanas, the Chiefs all-league tight end, who came out of the 31-7 Buffalo victory Sunday with a dislocated shoulder and said of the Super Bowl: "I'll play in that game if Lamar Hunt has to buy me a new shoulder." Hunt is the Chiefs young owner who could afford to buy that shoulder if anyone could.

Arbanas, incidentally, was the only Kansas City player seriously banged up in the Buffalo game. The Chiefs will be flying out to Long Beach, Calif., tomorrow for their practice sessions in good health.

On the form charts, the Packers' Bart Starr is a very big name and how can you compare him with the Chiefs Len Dawson.

There's not a finer quarterback in the business than Dawson and he is absolutely the most accurate thrower in the business, is how Hank Stram, coach of the Chiefs, puts it.

Green Bay note: Dawson, the 31-year-old master strategist, has enjoyed his finest season in a 10-year pro career. He connected on 16 of his 24 attempts for 227 yards on a slippery turf in Buffalo.

Jack Kemp, quarterback for the Buffalo Bills, was asked after the game if the Chiefs would be a good representative in the Jan. 15 Super Bowl.

"Of course they will," he said without hesitation. "They have a fine football team. They have a good running game, their passing is versatile and they play well defensively. They're going to surprise a lot of people." (Green Bay and oddsmakers note).

After the gamblers odds became known an attempt was made to contact Coach Stram at his home. But his phone was busy— either because he was getting congratulatory calls or that he took it off to watch some college football on television.

Anyway, Stram has declined to comment on the Super Bowl. All he's said so far that he and Vince Lombardi, the Packers coach, will exchange game films.

Lombardi note: You'll see some interesting movies there.

Assistant Grid Coaches Named For Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)— Homer Rice, newly appointed head football coach at the University of Cincinnati, named four of his assistants yesterday.

Rice, 39-year-old former assistant coach at the University of Oklahoma, became Cincinnati's head coach Christmas eve, succeeding Charles (Chuck) Stedley, who resigned earlier in December.

The new assistants are Robert (Swede) Lee, Ray Callahan, and Owen Hauck, along with Jim Kelly, who had been one of Stedley's assistants. Rice is expected to name two more assistant coaches later.

Lee, 30-year-old native of Texarkana, Tex., was assistant coach at Oklahoma along with Rice and will be the UC coach's chief assistant besides having charge of defense work. Lee was an All-Southwestern Conference linebacker at Texas.

Callahan, 33-year-old native of Lebanon, Ky., has been on the University of Kentucky coaching staff since 1963 and will be offensive coach under Rice.

The 39-year-old Hauck was Rice's assistant at Fort Thomas, Ky., High School from 1954 to 1961 and will be defensive line coach at UC.

Packers Eight Point Choice Over Chiefs

NEW YORK (AP)— The Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Football League yesterday, were made eight point favorites over the Kansas City Chiefs, the American Football League champions, in an early betting line here for the Super Bowl game at Los Angeles Jan. 15.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)— The Green Bay Packers, with their 10th National Football League championship tucked safely away, were enjoying a three-day layoff from practice yesterday before beginning preparations for the Super Bowl.

The squad apparently escaped injury in the Packers' 34-27 victory over the Dallas Cowboys Sunday for the NFL title. Most

New System Devised In Big 33 Selection

HARRISBURG (AP)—Smarting from two straight defeats at the hands of Texas in the annual Big 33 football game, Pennsylvania will be relying on a new system of selecting its high school stars for the game.

Al Clark, executive sports editor of the Harrisburg Patriot-News, which selects the Big 33 team, says the new system should put the Keystone State all-star team on an equal footing with the Texans.

Clark said the new system may be the key to victory for Pennsylvania next time around. The 1967 Big 33 team will be chosen from 50 high school players who will compete in an all-star game.

Clark said the 50, divided into two teams, would compete in a game as part of their training for the Big 33. This game, billed the Blue-Gray game, will be sometime prior to the 1967 Big 33 game Aug. 12. The exact date hasn't been set yet.

Prior to playing Pennsylvania the past two years, Texas held its annual North-South game. Subsequently, Pennsylvania was defeated by scores of 26-10 and 34-2.

In the first meeting between the two states in 1964, neither team played in a prior game and Pennsylvania won, 12-6.

The players:

Quarterbacks — Bill Gebert, Upper Merion; Tim Sigrist, Altoona Guilfoyle; Perry Stump, Juniata Joint; Greg Doviak, Mount Carmel.

Rodriguez Captures Grand Prix

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)— Mexican Pedro Rodriguez, driving steadily as cars in front of him were forced to make pit stops, yesterday won the South African Grand Prix, the first world championship racing event of 1967.

Rodriguez gained nine points in the world championship standings, bringing his Cooper Maserati home first after Denny Hulme of New Zealand and then John Love of Rhodesia encountered problems and had to pull into the pits.

Love came back and finished second in his Coventry Climax while the best Hulme could do was place fourth in his Repco Brabham. England's John Surtees was third in a Honda.

Ten of the 18 Formula One cars failed to finish on the Kyalami circuit.

Rodriguez, who said he was "so very, very happy," completed the 80-lap, 203.5-mile race in 2 hours, 5 minutes and 45.9 seconds at an average speed of 97,095 miles per hour.

He crossed the line 26.4 seconds ahead of Love and more than one lap ahead of Surtees.

Hulme started fast and held a two-thirds of a lap lead over Love. But in the 60th lap he had to make a pit stop because he was losing brake fluid.

Love then took the lead, but with only seven laps remaining had to stop for fuel.

Rodriguez quickly slipped into a 40-second lead and slowed down on instructions his pit crew signaled him. He lost more than 13 seconds in the final laps, but his margin was enough for him to win.

Defending world champion Jack Brabham of Australia finished sixth after his Repco Brabham had ignition trouble just short of the pits in the 41st lap. He was a distant second to Hulme at the time. Brabham returned to the track but had no chance of winning.

Proctor Added To Vandy Staff

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)— Bobby Proctor, defensive backfield coach at Mississippi State for the past three seasons, was named to the Vanderbilt University football coaching staff yesterday.

Bill Pace, who recently came here from Arkansas as head coach, said Proctor, 35, a native of Wynne, Ark., is joining his staff.

Pace said he hopes to complete his coaching staff in a few days.

Other aides named are George Bernhardt, who came here from the University of Kansas where he was an assistant, and Vandy holdovers Bob Patterson, Bob Cope and Don Riley.

Pace was named to succeed Jack Green, who resigned following a dismal 1966 season.

Green confirmed yesterday that he plans this week to visit Kansas presumably to discuss the possibility of a post on Coach Pepper Rodgers' staff.

Rodgers was named 10 days ago to succeed Jack Mitchell. He formerly was top assistant to Tommy Prothro at UCLA.

Harada Favored In Tonight's Bantam Battle

NAGOYA, Japan (AP)— Fighting Harada of Japan was favored yesterday to retain his world bantamweight title in a 15-round bout tonight with Joe Medel, the Mexican who knocked him out three years ago.

Harada was a flyweight in 1963 when the more experienced Medel dropped him three times and won on a sixth round technical knockout.

But the 23-year-old Harada has improved since then and most experts here believe the 28-year-old challenger is over the hill.

A capacity crowd of 13,000 was expected to pack the Aichi Prefectural Stadium. The fight will be televised nationally.

Harada will be making the third defense of the 118-pound division crown he won from Edler Jofre of Brazil on a 15-round decision in this same city on May 17, 1965, in a return bout in Tokyo last May 31. Harada again outpointed Jofre.

Medel was knocked out twice by Jofre in title bouts, the first in 1960 and the second in 1962.

Medel's record is 62-19-6, including 40 knockouts. He has been stopped six times.

Harada's record is 41-3, including 16 knockouts. He has been stopped once by Medel. In between his title bouts with Jofre, Harada outpointed Britain's Alan Rudkin in a title defense in Tokyo.

The bout was scheduled to start at 8 p.m., or 6 a.m. EST in the United States.

Nanooks Finish European Tour

AUBOUE, France (AP)— The University of Alaska's basketball team lost the final game on its nine-game European tour yesterday, falling before Auboue 78-71.

Auboue, the fourth ranking team in the top French amateur league, won it on a basketball by David Bourvet with less than 30 seconds to go.

Milo Griffin was the high scorer for Alaska with 18 points.

Three Day Vacation For NFL Champions

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)— The Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Football League yesterday, were enjoying a three-day layoff from practice yesterday before beginning preparations for the Super Bowl.

The squad apparently escaped injury in the Packers' 34-27 victory over the Dallas Cowboys Sunday for the NFL title. Most of the team returned by plane late Sunday night but several who live in the Texas area remained behind.

All those on the plane said they were in good condition, including Boyd Dowler. Dowler was hit hard on two plays, including the one in which he caught a Bart Starr pass from the 16 for a touchdown, but he said he was feeling "real fine."

Coach Vince Lombardi has called a meeting of the team for Wednesday and a spokesman said workouts would start Thursday for the Super Bowl game with the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League in Los Angeles Jan. 15.

County Police said a crowd of 13,000 to 15,000 was on hand at the airport at midnight to greet the arrival of the champions.

Lombardi introduced his players and said he looked forward to the meeting with the Chiefs.

Officers described the throng as the largest ever to greet the Packers.

1967 Track & Field Preview: Most Records Will Fall

(Editor's note: Bert Nelson, publisher of Track and Field News and a recognized authority in his field, has written this preview of the 1967 indoor track season for The Associated Press.)

By BERT NELSON
Written for The Associated Press

World records could fall in almost every standard event in the 10-week U.S. indoor track and field campaign which gets under way in San Francisco on Jan. 7.

The great names of the sport — Jim Ryun, Tommie Smith, Randy Matson, John Pennell, Charlie Greene, Bob Seagren, Gerry Lindgren, Ralph Boston — will be prominent again.

Some will compete regularly. Others will pick their spots. Ryun and Smith will see limited action in the major invitational events because of their crowded collegiate schedules.

Starting his sophomore year at Kansas, Ryun is the teen-age world record man in the mile and half-mile and national record owner in the two-mile. But Ryun missed a month of practice this fall because of a bad back and is expected to compete only in the Los Angeles and Portland invitational.

Smith, the San Jose State star who smashed the 220 record on straightaway and curve, is healthy but the indoor circuit has little real opportunity for the long sprinter and he probably will be seen only in an occasional 60 and relay legs.

Each new track season produces its own crop of hungry newcomers and the competition will be rugged almost everywhere.

Event-by-event here's how it shapes up:

60 yards: Three co-holders of the 5.9 world record are returning. Leading the pack is Charley Greene of Nebraska, No. 1 claimant to the fastest human title the past two years. The other two are Darel Newman, returning after a bad injury, and Little Bill Gaines, a New Jersey high school junior. George Anderson heads the talented crop of challengers.

440-500-600 yards: None of the three top outdoor quarter-milers will appear at these distances indoors. Theron Lewis is sitting out this one. Lee Evans, a teammate of Tommie Smith, will run longer distances. Ollan Cassell has retired and the 600 recordman, Martin McGrady of Central State of Ohio, is an unknown quantity after missing most of the outdoor activity. So the event is wide open for Jim Kemp, former NCAA outdoor king, and Dave Cook of Nebraska.

880-1,000 yards: Likeliest winners here should be Ted Nelson and Tom Farrell and newcomer Ryun. Nelson is the indoor national 1,000 titlist and world record man at 800 meters. Farrell holds the board track 880 standard. Lee Evans, national outdoor king in the 440, is moving up and there is plenty of potential in George Hunt, John Perry, Ricky Urbina, Herb Germann and Ed Duchini.

One mile: Ryun, whose 3:51.3 puts him four seconds ahead of anyone else in the country, should continue to be the big wheel. His stiffest competition should come from Jim Grells, still owner of the most sub-four minute miles, and Neil Duggan, an Englishman going to junior college in California, who did 3:56.1 last summer.

Two miles: Here again Ryun could be the leader. But the competition will be stiffer. Gerry Lindgren, who ran 8:40.0 a prep three years ago, should break some world marks this year if he can stay healthy. Tracy Smith chased Ron Clarke to a world record in this event. Grells shares the outdoor national record with Ryun, and Billy Mills, the Olympic 10,000-meter king, is aiming at a serious season.

High hurdles: Two hurdlers equalled the 6.9 world mark last season and are expected to push each other again. Willie Davenport of Southern had an edge on Richmond Flowers of Tennessee.

High jump: Valeri Brumel's 7-4 record appears to be the safest of all indoor standards but Otis Burrell climbed 7-2 1/2 last winter and looked ready for better things. He will be pressed by at least a dozen other seven-footers, including Olympian John Rambo, who did 7-2.

Pole vault: If Bob Seagren's 17-0 3/4 world mark lasts out the season it will be a miracle. Seagren, only 19, is out to add more inches and so are the other fiberglass experts. John Pennell will start late after a broken wrist but he took the outdoor standard away from Seagren last summer and could repeat indoors. Paul Wilson of Southern California and Sam Kirk are the others who have cleared 17 feet.

Long jump: Four of the six longest jumpers in history head the event, topped by Ralph Boston. He was injured last season and will have to fight his way back against Rainer Stenius, Gayle Hopkins and Clarence Robinson, all of whom have bettered 26-9.

Shot put: Neal Steinhauer of Oregon expects to break some records this winter. But it looks as if he will still be No. 2 man to Randy Matson, the world's first and only 70-footer who missed last season while playing basketball. Parry O'Brien reached a life-time best of 64 feet last year at the age of 34 and this, his 20th year in competition, could be his best. Then there's also John McGrath, the national titlist, with a tops of 64-3 1/2.

The schedule is the most extensive ever. Two new cities, San Diego and Oakland, join the circuit.

Four national championship meets are planned, beginning with the NIAA at Kansas City Jan. 21. The AAU holds its title meet in Oakland March 3 and 4, the NCAA will be in Detroit March 10 and 11, and the USTF decides its champions in Milwaukee March 13.

Major invitational meets scheduled by the National Indoor Track Meet Directors Association include the All-American Games, San Francisco, Jan. 7; Massachusetts Knights of Columbus, Boston, Jan. 14; Los Angeles Invitational, Jan. 21; Millrose Games, New York, Jan. 28; Boston AA, Jan. 28; Albuquerque Invitational, Jan. 28; Oregon Invitational, Jan. 28; New York K. of C., Feb. 3; Philadelphia Inquirer, Feb. 4; Seattle Invitational, Feb. 4; Will Rogers Games, Fort Worth, Feb. 10; Los Angeles Times, Feb. 11; Golden Gate Invitational, San Francisco, Feb. 17; New York A.C., Feb. 17; Mason Dixon Games, Louisville, Feb. 18; Cleveland K. of C., Feb. 18; and Baltimore Sun All-Eastern Invitational, Feb. 24.

College Coach Sees Dunk Shot Outlawed

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A prediction that collegiate basketball rules makers would raise the height of the basket and outlaw the dunk shot was made Wednesday by Coach Henry Iba of Oklahoma State.

Iba, a member of the national basketball committee which makes the rules for the game, addressed a Big Eight Conference tournament tip-off luncheon. The tournament opened here Tuesday night and continues through Friday.

The next rule change will do away with the dunk shot by tall players, Iba predicted, and the raising of the basket would come later.

"Height is a God-given blessing, so let's make it equal at both ends of the court," he said.

Iba explained that the dunk shot puts officials in an awkward spot because it is a technical foul to grab the basket and illegal for players from either side to interfere with the ball above the basket.

At a press conference, Iba added that he foresaw no difficulty in determining between a dunk and a tip shot.

"The big always will have the advantage," he said. "With all the isometrics and weight programs that we have today, it won't be long until the players jump up and throw themselves through the basket. I don't know when, but in the days to come the basket is going up."

The luncheon was sponsored by the Exchange Club of Kansas City, which honored Ted Owens of Kansas as its coach of the year.

Iba, in his 32 seasons at Oklahoma State, has had two national collegiate champions, and he coached the U.S. team to the Olympic championship in 1964.

In response to his award, Owens said Kansas has been fortunate to have had boys with great attitude and ability, and that he accepted the plaque given him in their behalf.

Reds Blast U.S. on Ice

WINNIPEG, Manitoba (AP) — Russia's national team blasted 50 shots at United States' goalie Carl Wetzel and walloped the Americans 7-1 in the opening round yesterday of the Centennial World Hockey Tournament.

The Soviet team combined a precise passing game with tight checking and was in complete charge. The world champion Russians scored three times in the first period when they fired 24 shots at Wetzel and four times in the second period on 20 shots.

Juri Moiseyev and Victor Poplupanov led the Soviet attack, scoring two goals each.

Don Ross averted a shutout for the Americans with just over six minutes left to play when he beat Russian goalie Victor Konovalenko on an assisted goal.

Konovalenko was the center of a pre-game American protest that delayed the start of play. Murray Williamson, the U.S. general manager, thought the Russian goalie's pads were wider than the 11 inches allowed under international rules. But the pads were measured and turned out to be a permissible total of 21 1/2 inches.

Don't Take Divot, May Be Old Bill !!

LONDON (AP) — In death, as in life, William J. Garner is going back to that patch of rough on the right of the 17th hole of his golf club.

The 75-year-old president of the Croham Hurst Golf Club died in September and in his will made public yesterday dictated that his ashes be strewn where he scattered so many of his tee shots over the years.

Club members accepted the testament and will obey his wishes. They said the spot he usually managed to reach off the tee was about 130 yards out and in some heavy grass.

The will also left $280 to his regular caddy.

Goodyear Cage Team in Italy

VARESE, Italy (AP) — The Goodyear basketball team of Akron, Ohio, arrived here yesterday to meet Brazil's Corinthians in a Thursday game counting for the Intercontinental basketball cup.

The 12 players and Coach Hank Vaughn flew to Milan from Helsinki, where they played five exhibition games, and came here by bus.

The winner of the Jan. 5 game will enter the tournament finals starting in Rome Saturday.

Other teams in the tournament are European champion Simmenthal of Milan, Slavia of Prague, and Ignis of Varese, which won the cup last year.

WILL NOT VACATE SEAT

Senators Prepare Powell Discipline

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON - Liberal Democrats in the House appear to be gravitating to the view that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell should be disciplined but not deprived of his seat.

The form of discipline that now seems most likely is denial of his chairmanship of the Education and Labor Committee.

Three Democrats, usually classified as liberals and probably the precursors of a larger group, are inclined at this point to let the Manhattan Democrat take his seat pending an investigation and to impose some penalty other than exclusion from the House.

A fourth would have Powell stand aside, but not excluded, pending an investigation.

A fifth who is a member of the House administration subcommittee said, however, he believed that Powell would be denied his seat on the basis of the subcommittee's report, which will be made today.

Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, of California, who proposed to deny the oath to Powell, is also rated a Liberal Democrat. Van Deerlin would not declare the Powell seat vacant, because that would call for a new election, but he would withhold the right to vote pending a report by a committee of nine appointed by the speaker. Powell would, meanwhile, retain all other privileges of office.

Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., said: "I will not vote to vacate the seat." He meant, he said, that the oath of office should be administered but he was not necessarily opposed to some form of discipline.

Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., said of Thompson's position: "I think that makes sense. If history is any guide, people are going to want to find a position that doesn't go as far as Van Deerlin and does more than nothing."

A third, preferring anonymity now, said: "That is a pretty good representation of my own feeling in this matter. Most members are not anxious to expel — or anything so drastic."

All three are members of the Education and Labor Committee and of the Democratic Study Group, an informal organization of House liberals. Thompson is chairman of the study group, which has decided not to take a position as an organization in the Powell case.

Thompson said he opposed vacating the seat because "Mr. Powell's conduct was an issue in his campaign" and his constituents nevertheless chose him. Thompson added that "excluding him from Congress would achieve nothing" because in a special election he would be re-elected.

Then Thompson declared: "The whole matter has not been gone into with the great care it should be."

It is generally agreed that Speaker John McCormack will be the most important guide to a decision in the Powell case. He may have communicated his views to liberal Democrats, but he has made himself unavailable for public comment. House action on such an internal matter contrary to his views would amount to a major revolt. The temper of the House does not seem to have reached that stage.

Saigon Approves Brown Peace Plan

BY R.W. APPLE, JR.
(C) N.Y. Times News Service
SAIGON - The South Vietnamese government informed London yesterday that it would be willing to take part in the peace conference proposed by Britain.

Responding to an invitation issued last Friday by George Brown, the British Foreign Secretary, the Saigon regime followed the lead of the United States, as had been anticipated. President Johnson accepted the invitation soon after its issuance.

Hanoi Radio, however, denounced the proposal as an attempt to "deceive world opinion" and described Brown as Johnson's "spokesman."

The broadcast, monitored here last night, said the proposal "was nothing new compared with United States terms for unconditional talks." It suggested that Brown had made his offer in an effort to mollify the leftwing of the Labor Party.

Saigon analysts said that the North Vietnamese statement appeared to dim, if not completely foreclose, any chance that a conference would actually be convened by Britain.

Dr. Tran Van Do, the South Vietnamese Foreign Minister, said the contents of the note to Britain would not be disclosed for a day or two.

The Foreign Minister added, however, that the substance of the message was "that the Vietnamese government agrees in principle to the proposal because we always want to show our good will for peace in Vietnam."

It was believed that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and the other members of the predominantly military ruling junta had been pleased by the British offer because it excluded the National Liberation Front, the political organ of the Viet Cong. The generals have consistently opposed talks with the front.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, the chief of state, said his government has always considered itself "the victims of aggression" and had always been "ready to talk peace in any place." The problem, he told reporters, "is whether the other side is really sincere."

"We accept the principle of the proposal," the general said. "To show our good will."

Thieu, who was interviewed as he concluded a visit to the German hospital ship Helgoland on the Saigon River front, also hinted that the government might lengthen its proposed 96-hour ceasefire during the Asian New Year next month to conform to the ceasefire announced last night by the Viet Cong's Liberation Radio.

ON HANOI BOMBINGS

Salisbury Stories Stir Washington

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Affairs Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - A Communist pamphlet on U.S. bombings of North Vietnam contains civilian casualty figures identical to those used in recent New York Times dispatches from Hanoi.

American intelligence says — "Report on U.S. War Crimes in Nam-Dinh City" — was distributed by a North Vietnamese official to newsmen in Moscow in November.

Government sources provided The Associated Press a copy yesterday after the Washington Post compared figures in the pamphlet with those used in Times' stories reporting widespread civilian casualties and damage resulting from American air raids in North Vietnam.

The Times dispatches by Harrison E. Salisbury have added fuel to world controversy over whether the United States deliberately has attacked North Vietnamese civilian areas.

The Johnson administration says only military targets are being attacked, but acknowledges that in Vietnam, as in other wars, some civilians near target areas inevitably become victims of war.

The administration has not challenged on the scene reporting of Salisbury, a Times assistant managing editor and the first U.S. newsmen admitted to North Vietnam in recent years. Government spokesmen, however, believe that the Salisbury stories late last month might have been viewed differently if many of the figures he used had been attributed clearly and promptly to official Hanoi sources.

Salisbury, in a story printed Dec. 27, used detailed figures on civilian deaths and civilian housing destruction caused by American planes in Nam Dinh and Phuly, both south of Hanoi. No source for the figures was given. But on Dec. 29, his story said: "It should be noted, incidentally, that all casualty estimates and statistics in these dispatches are those of North Vietnamese officials. However, descriptions of bomb damage are based wholly on visual inspection."

Five Killed in Early Morning New York Fire

ELMHURST, N.Y. (AP) - A father, two of his children and two other youngsters were killed yesterday in a fire that destroyed a two-story frame house on this city's East Side.

The dead were identified as Charles Franhman, 29, his sons, Wayne, 4, and Douglas, 3, Louise Decker, 15, and her sister, Helene, 12½.

Franhman's wife, Jane, 25, dropped the couple's 7-month-old daughter, Linda, from a second-story bedroom window to three persons standing outside the flaming house.

Then, Mrs. Franhman jumped from the window.

STATE CHANGES STANDARDS

Nursing Homes Get New Regulations

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania nursing homes operating for profit and infirmaries sections of non-profit homes now are governed by some new rules and regulations.

The state department of public welfare over the weekend announced various revisions.

The major changes, announced Saturday by Max Rosenn, state secretary of public welfare, are:

Personnel — A registered nurse must be in charge of day nursing service in homes with 20 or more patients; registered nurses must be in charge of day and evening nursing service in homes with 50 to 74 patients; and around-the-clock registered nurse supervision is required in homes with more than 75 patients.

Plant — New homes will have to meet up-graded construction specifications; existing homes must either be up to or come up to the new standards.

Safety — All homes must comply with State Department of Health rules and regulations, and, where they exist, approved county health department regulations.

Fire safety — New homes must meet the standards of the National Electrical Code; existing homes will be required to meet the same standards by Dec. 1, 1967.

"The new regulations in the area of personnel alone will in itself favorably affect and up-

Spanish Writer Jailed for Book

MADRID, Spain (AP) — The Spanish National Court of Public Order sentenced a young writer to six months in jail and fined him $166.

Isaac Montero, 24, wrote a novel, "Around an April Day," which he tried to publish without deleting portions considered offensive to the Gen. Francisco Franco regime.

The book was seized last August by orders of the Court of Public Order and never was published.

grade the care of some 50,000 patients in nursing homes," Rosenn said.

The revisions, he added, represent the first major change in regulations for profit-making nursing homes since 1959 and the first revision for non-profit homes since 1954.

Bus Strike Affects Bradford

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Bus service to parts of New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania was tied up yesterday because of a strike by 150 mechanics and bus drivers.

(Editor's Note: Warren is not affected by the strike, according to the bus terminal, Kane and Bradford are.)

Members of Amalgamated Transit Union Local 1154 struck the Edwards Lakes-to-Sea System at 12:01 a.m. Sunday in a contract dispute.

Representatives of management and the union failed to reach an agreement on a new pact.

Wages reportedly are the main issue in the dispute. A company spokesman would say only that there was a "wide gap" in contract talks dealing with wages. The old wage scale was not available.

Among the company routes are those between Cleveland, Ohio and New York City, Elmira, N. Y., Philadelphia, Buffalo, N. Y., and Pittsburgh.

Federal mediator G. Harry Young has not set a new date for resumption of negotiations.

School Safe Rifled

RIPLEY — Chautauque County authorities are continuing their investigation into the burglary at the Ripley Central School last week when an undetermined amount of cash was taken from a safe. The thieves pried open a rear window, then forced open a door to the administrative offices to gain access to a walk-in vault.

ROCKY SWORN IN AGAIN

Formal ceremonies to swear in Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York for his third term were held yesterday. He took his oath of office last week from Secretary of State John

P. Lomenzo. His wife, Happy, looks on. The victory Nov. 8 kept alive a possible role for him in the 1968 Presidential campaign.

Warren County Relief Costs Rise $4,687 for October

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau)

HARRISBURG — Warren County relief costs went on the upswing in October, climbing from $25,431 in September to October's $30,118, the State Department of Public Welfare announces, noting at the same time that the number of Warren countians receiving relief climbed from 385 to 537.

As matters now stand, 1.1 percent of the Warren County population is on relief.

Here is the way the picture shapes up in the county on the basis of the latest DPW reports (with the preceding month noted in parenthesis):

Two hundred thirty-eight countians were receiving $12,819 in old age assistance (112 receiving $10,249); 25 persons were receiving $2,182 in state blind pensions (23 receiving $1,752); 32 receiving $3,998 in federal-state blind pensions (34 receiving $4,165); 194 receiving $6,625 in aid to dependent children assistance (168 receiving $5,000); 12 receiving $786 in general assistance (14 receiving $668); and 36 receiving $3810 in aid to disabled assistance (36 receiving $3,597).

Plan Inquest

BRADFORD — An inquest will be held at City Hall Thursday night in the case of Mrs. Parmena Cosky, 35, of 30 Gilbert Lane, who died Saturday morning in Bradford Hospital of injuries sustained in a traffic mishap. The woman was a passenger in a vehicle owned by City Taxi Co., which was involved in a collision in Bradford Township. Driver of the other vehicle was David Clyne, 34, of 1131 W. Washington st., who was injured in the accident.

not on relief—totaled $5288 during the month, compared to $34,740 in medical payments in September.

With administration costs of $387 for the County Board of Assistance and $149 paid for burials, the Warren County expenditures of public assistance funds reached $39,442 for the month, compared to $66,336 in September.

Spaniards Hold Sitin In Protest

MADRID, Spain (AP) — About 13,000 employees of an American-controlled telephone equipment company began a sit-in yesterday, demanding release of six workers arrested during a demonstration outside the plants on Saturday.

The company, Standard Electric, S.A., produces most of the telephones and telephone equipment used by Spain's national telephone system. It is a subsidiary of the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

Labor sources said a committee of the striking workers sought a meeting with the company's directors to negotiate release of the detained workers and settlement of demands for wage increases averaging $26 monthly per man.

Representatives of the management were not available for comment and the telephones at the plants — one in downtown Madrid and the other in the industrial suburb of Villaverde, were not answered.

Labor sources said they understood the striking workers would sit by their machines until their regular working day was ended, then would leave the plants.

Most of the employees were members of the powerful metal workers syndicate whose provincial Madrid organization threatened a token strike last month because of the reported dismissal of about 10,000 workers by automotive and electrical plants in the Madrid area.

A number of police stood by at the downtown plant of the company but made no effort to interfere with the workers.

Held in Death

DUBOIS — Donald Lundberg, 30, Brockway RD 2, is free on $5,000 bail awaiting the next term of Jefferson County court charged with involuntary manslaughter. The charge followed a three-car accident at Brockway in which Mrs. Edna Van Horn of Falls Creek was fatally injured.

State Legislature Convenes Today; Scranton Bows Out

HARRISBURG (AP) — In a long-standing ceremonial procedure, the 151st general assembly will meet for the first time today at noon to consider the problems of the 190-year-old State of Pennsylvania.

A highlight of the afternoon will be a farewell speech by the state's 39th governor, William E. Scranton. His successor, Raymond P. Shafer, will preside over the joint session as Scranton's lieutenant governor.

Scranton will be addressing a legislature controlled fully by Republicans for the first time since the 1964 elections, when Democrats gained control of the House.

Meanwhile, leaders of the Democratic party say they will try to see to it that the Republicans in both houses follow through on their campaign platform, which both parties agree is probably the most liberal in GOP history.

The session opens with the 203 house members and 50 senators-elect taking their oaths of office and installing the chief officers of both chambers. Then the two chambers will assemble to hear Scranton's final message. There will be no live radio or television coverage of the address.

Republican leaders say the question of taxes may be one of the most important confronting the General Assembly. "The question of taxes is likely to be the most important issue of the session since so many items in our platform are tied to it in the budget," said Rep. Kenneth B. Lee, a Sullivan County Republican who is to be elected Speaker of the House.

Sen. Robert D. Fleming, an Allegheny Republican who has been chosen by the majority Republicans as their candidate for the Senate president pro tempore, said mandated increases in spending for present programs and a possible cutback in federal domestic spending would compound the question of additional state revenues.

"I certainly don't advocate a tax increase," Fleming said.

However, he added, "That's the only way I know of to pay for the programs if we have to come up with more money."

It has been estimated that spending for the 1967-68 fiscal year will increase by some $200 million because of legislation enacted in past years. This does not include any additional programs that might be passed by the new General Assembly.

While Republicans talked of taxes, the Democrats, who lost their majority power in the house in the November election, said they had put Republican Gov.-elect Raymond P. Shafer and the GOP on notice that they wanted to see the Republican platform followed.

"I dare say that 90 per cent of both party platforms were very similar," said Rep. Herbert Fineman, a Philadelphia Democrat and House majority leader. "We're agreed on what must be done, now let's do it. We're prepared to support the Republicans in that endeavor."

The Republicans attained a 104-99 margin in the House, where 102 votes constitute a majority. In the Senate, with one election still undecided, they hold a 27-22 margin. A majority is 26 votes. Both houses were elected under a state Supreme Court reapportionment plan.

Gov. Scranton's closing address, expected to be brief—less than a half hour—will probably be a review of the last four years and a look at the future relationship of the state to the federal government.

Shafer plans tentatively to address the General Assembly about 10 days after his inauguration Jan. 17. Hugh Flaherty, Shafer's new legislative secretary, said the governor-elect hopes to have his legislative program "pretty much in line" by February.

Flaherty said Shafer hopes to have the Senate give priority consideration to seven constitutional amendments passed once already during the last session. These, plus an additional one calling for a convention to revise the state constitution, are scheduled for introduction when the Senate convenes today.

Flaherty said the administration hopes for passage by February so they might be placed on the ballot in the May primary election.

Breakfast Briefs

Fraud Charge

A new gimmick in victimizing mercantile places was uncovered at Franklin in the arrest of a Rouseville woman who was charged with cheating by fraudulent pretense, Helene Adeline De Arment, 39, was arrested on a charge of having obtained merchandise from a ladies' apparel store under an assumed name. The merchandise was valued at $32. A similar attempt was made at a second store but the clerk became suspicious, bringing about the inquiry which resulted in the woman's arrest.

Sheriff Stricken

DeForrest M. McClune, 48, sheriff of Cattaraugus County and a well known law enforcement officer in that area for over 20 years, died at Salamanca District Hospital Saturday. Death followed a severe cold which resulted in pneumonia. He was re-elected to a third term as sheriff at the November balloting.

Brotzman Dies

Many acquaintances in the Warren area will regret to learn of the death of William S. Brotzman, who headed the U. S. Weather Bureau at Pittsburgh for 23 years. He died Saturday in the McGinley Rest Home in Chicago. Brotzman, 90, retired to his farm in Worthington, near Kittanning, in 1946 after 39 years as a weatherman.

Grant to Campus

Venango Campus, Inc., received a grant of $10,000 from the Edith C. Justus Fund at Oil City last week. J. C. Montgomery Jr., president of Venango Campus, Inc., in accepting the check, said: "This liberal grant will greatly assist Venango Campus and Clarion State College in their efforts to establish an associate degree program in nursing at the local institution."

Officer Honored

JAMESTOWN — Major Paul G. Spero, a native of Jamestown, received the U. S. Army's third highest decoration for meritorious achievement, the Legion of Merit, at Taipei, Taiwan. He is commanding officer of the 70th U. S. Army Security Agency Special Operations there. He was specifically cited for directing the "re-engineering and redesigning of a unique $7.5 million electronic system thereby enabling the station to place this system into full operation."

Town Crier

... By Les Rickey

I'd rather not talk about New Year's Eve, thank you, and I'm not too keen on dwelling on New Year's Day either, for that matter.

One thing that I did over the weekend, though, was catch up on some back reading. One of those items struck me particularly appropos as we go into another year of complex life on this aged earth. It was Roman Gary's opinion of "overdunking" and "moral overkill."

It's not as complicated as it sounds. What it boils down to, essentially, is that the trend toward knocking everything down concerning sentiment or human emotion is leading us to a sort of super-society that has been dehumanized completely.

For instance, he points out that the psychological approach to many questions of culture takes out the one element that makes it cultural: the frailties of human emotion.

The trend of placing ideology ahead of individuality — that is, the idea before the man — was what led to the death camps of Nazi Germany. And it's happening to our society, in a different form.

Literature shows it. Anything connected with romanticism, with sentiment, with beauty, is taboo for print. It won't sell, with notable exceptions being the poetry of Robert Frost or Dylan Thomas. By the same token, the frailties of mankind are bared, analyzed, fixed, and patched back into the framework of "reality."

The soul no longer exists; it's now called ego, and there are theses by the dozens which can tell from what traumatic experience mental disruption arose. God is dead; he is replaced by the IBM.

The point Mr. Gary makes is this: Those very things which were in essence an escape from the reality are reality. They are the reality we make to overcome our baseness; our animalism. Society is not all-powerful; it is, in fact, no more powerful than the individuals that comprise it, and they are human and have every right to show it.

I've had enough of Freud, of Marx, Ginsberg, Ferlinghetti, Albee and Keynes. It's time for me to reread Louisa May Alcott.

SPEND NEW YEAR'S DAY ABOARD FREIGHTER

Seven Rescued from Battered Sailboat

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — "New Year's Day was a lot of fun," said Curtice Alley. "They gave us a party on the Cotswold."

Alley was one of five young people—three girls, two men—brought to Norfolk today on the British freighter after a rough time in the North Atlantic on the yawl Petrel 250 miles south-east of New York.

Three others were still with the 70-foot Petrel as she was being towed to New York by the Coast Guard cutter Tamaroa. The remaining two in the Petrel's party were aboard the Tamaroa.

"There were no injuries,"

Alley said, "but the girls were seasick most of the time."

One of the girls, Mary Shapiro, 17, of Yonkers, N.Y., was making her first trip on a boat of any kind. She said she had not been afraid but had become seasick from a combination of the odor of leaking gasoline and being wet and uncomfortable.

"I'm not ready to go back to sea any time soon," she said.

Thomas Kornrumpf, like Alley from Toledo, Ohio, said trouble had begun for the Petrel Wednesday morning when some of her sails blew out and lines became entangled in the propeller.

The decision was made Thursday to turn the Petrel from her course for Bermuda and head back to New York, but the yawl was battered by 35-foot-high seas and winds at 35 miles an hour.

About noon Thursday the main sail and the mizzen sail on the two-masted vessel blew out, and the Petrel became unmanageable, Kornrumpf said.

At 1 a.m. the Petrel sent a Mayday call, and at 2:15 a.m. Coast Guard planes were overhead.

How did they look? "Wonderful," said Kornrumpf.

The Petrel's pumps were out, and the yawl began taking on water. The Coast Guard dropped pumps, but the Petrel was unable to pick them up in the heavy seas.

"I didn't think we were going to last very long," Kornrumpf said.

But the Petrel did hang on, and the Cotswold reached the scene at 2 p.m. Friday, launched a boat and took aboard half the crew of 10.

The others stayed with the Petrel to await the Coast Guard cutter and to help in the tow.

Social Wanderings

by Marion Honhart

THE FIRST WEDDING reported to me for this brand new year of 1967 hasn't taken place yet, but it will, this Thursday, January 5th, out in Grand Forks, North Dakota. On that day, Airman 3/C Douglas D. Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Marshall of 115 Railroad street, Clarendon, will take for his bride, Miss Kathleen Rae Bohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Bohn of Langdon, North Dakota. The young couple expects to spend part of their honeymoon here in the East visiting Doug's parents and family, returning to Grand Forks on January 28th, where Airman Marshall is stationed, and Kathleen attends classes at Bernal Hairstyling College.

PACE'S RESTAURANT will be the site of the annual dinner held by the Warren County Nurses Association. The affair takes place next Monday, January 9th—it is the time to refresh old friendships, and to make new ones. All registered professional nurses are invited to attend and to make reservations before Thursday, January 5th, by calling any one of the following: Mrs. Joseph Acks 723-7473; Miss Harriette Morgan 723-5500 Ext. 263; Mrs. Roger Mahaffy 723-3339; Mrs. Robert Patchen 723-3261.

MR. AND MRS. WILLARD W. LOHNES of Woodland Drive, are enjoying the pleasure of having their son, Fredric W. Lohnes, AQ 2, of Attack Squadron 65, home after a ten month tour of duty aboard the U.S.S. Constellation in the Pacific and South China Seas. Fred will return to the Naval Air Base at Oceana, Virginia, early this month, and later once again board the aircraft carrier.

WELL, THE CHRISTMAS TREE IS DOWN, the ornaments and presents put away, the lovely scent of pine that lingered through the house is gone. Now we prepare ourselves for the longest time of the year, the portion that is a real builder of character: January, February and March!

Hints From Heloise

Sweater Case

DEAR HELOISE:

This is the best way I have found to wash and shape those big, thick, loosely woven sweaters that are so fashionable nowadays:

I used to wash as usual according to the instructions, but they always stretched from the weight of the water. So I have learned to squeeze them gently and then roll them in a heavy bath towel to take out any excess water. I then toss the sweater in the air and catch it 20 or 30 times.

This fluffs the yarn and puts the stitches back in place.

You may then shape the sweater on a towel to dry. Your sweater will look like it is brand new. It's absolutely beautiful!

Ruth Green

Now folks, don't you dare laugh at our dear Ruth. She's found a good answer to those loose-knit sweaters.

My daughter has one. I have washed it often and finally tried Ruth's method. Sure enough, by tossing it lightly and catching it, it does get air into those tiny loosely woven wool fibers. I even found that the sweater dried quicker, too.

At first I thought this was a letter of laughter. I am sure you think some of the things that appear in this column are. But this one really isn't. Another thing I found good about this hint was that I got the most exercise I had had in a month of Sundays! It's practically like playing "jacks" again.

So try it next time you wash your sweater. I'm sure you'll love it as much as Ruth and I do.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE:

What does the bottom of an ironing basket look like? I've never seen mine in five years or three babies...

DEAR HELOISE:

I have two very helpful hints for mothers with young babies.

When you tie your baby in the high chair with a diaper... instead of tying the diaper around his chest or stomach, put it between his legs so that the diaper is on top of one leg and under the other. Then tie it in back of the chair.

This keeps the child from slipping down.

Susan Williams

DEAR HELOISE:

Here's an inexpensive way to have four baby blankets: Buy one large blanket and cut it into four equal parts. Each piece will make a nice-sized baby blanket.

Bind the edges with ribbon or blanket binding or just hem on your sewing machine for every day use.

It's always nice to have plenty of extra baby blankets on hand. Especially when they cost so little.

Mabel McHugh

DEAR HELOISE:

I made myself a little step-stool of three bricks and wedged them into a cardboard box and then covered the box with an old piece of corduroy.

It doesn't take up much room and gives me that extra few inches of reach without having to get out my tall step stool.

HOW MUCH DOES ELECTRIC HEAT REALLY COST?

3 CASES!

Okay, so it's a terrible pun! But then, three times the cost of Gas is a terrible price to have to pay to heat your home! Even then, it might be worth it if electric heat were three times as good as Gas heat, or three times as convenient, or even three times as warm...

But it isn't. It's simply about three times as expensive.

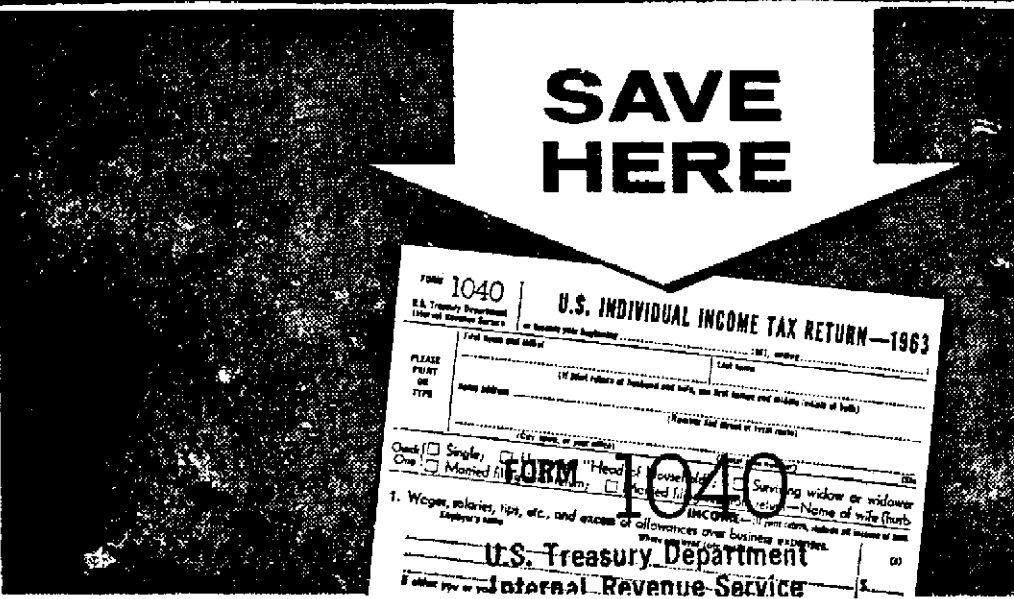

And what do you get for this extra charge of electricity? Cold basements for one thing. Cold floors, for another. And you get that "bottled-up" feeling that comes with non-circulating, warmed-over air, day after day. Of course, you get the fun of playing "thermostat roulette." Any number can play. Just turn off the heat in every room as you leave it. This conserves that precious heat and keeps your heating bill down to about three times the cost of Gas heat.

You'll get a charge out of electric heat, all right... every month! But, if you're like most people, you heat your home... all of it... with fresh-air Gas heat. That makes you eligible to play another game. It's called—Think of all the things you can do with the money you save with Gas! Everybody wins.

Announcing... DrugTax

A SERVICE TO TAXPAYERS

Ever wish, at income tax time, that you had a complete record of every cent you spent for drugs and drug products throughout the year—and how much of it was legally deductible?

That kind of a record could save you money. And that kind of a record can now be yours, every year, absolutely free of charge.

This new service is called DrugTax. We are making it available to all of our customers immediately, free of charge, as another way of saying "thank you" for their patronage.

You would be surprised at the number of drug and medical supplies that can be of a deductible nature—items such as antiseptics, aspirin, cough and cold preparations, and hundreds of others.

Indeed, the American taxpayer has been losing millions of dollars annually because he hasn't been aware of how many drug items are legally deductible.

But you must be able to offer proof of purchase in order to claim such items in preparing your federal income tax return. And when you buy from us, you get that proof—in the form of an annual record, mailed in February.

Come in today and let us tell you more about DrugTax. And from now on, buy all of your drug and medical supplies from the store that gives you the free DrugTax record.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing in response to that lame-brain who signed herself "Wheels."

I happen to be one of the millions of women in this country who does not drive a car. I resent being called a cheapskate, a free-loader and a neurotic screwball. I have taken driving lessons and tried my darndest to master the wheel but it is hopeless. My instructor told me to save my money, that I will never be able to drive, and I have accepted her verdict.

Too bad more women don't accept the verdict instead of running loose on the streets and highways—endangering the lives of innocent people as well as their own.

Let's face it, some people simply do not have the temperament or the psychological equipment to handle a car. It's nothing to be ashamed of. Please print this letter and wake them up. Thank you. — A PASSENGER

Dear Pass: Here's your letter, and I DO hope it wakes up some of the rotten drivers who should also be passengers. Unfortunately, I can't wake them ALL up because some of them already are dead.

Dear Ann Landers: Once you said good looks are an asset and people don't lose friends because they are attractive. Well, you are wrong. Several months ago my wife and I and another couple went out to dinner. I will call the couple Bill and Frieda. As we entered the restaurant, the host greeted us with, "Well, how is the best looking woman in town?" and he took my wife's arm.

Frieda said in a voice loud enough to be heard all over the place, "What's wrong with ME? Am I ugly or something? I get sick of hearing how good-looking SHE is."

Frieda was surly and unpleasant all evening and we haven't see them since.

This isn't the first time we've had a problem over my wife's good looks. Since you're so smart, what's the matter? — MARRIED TO A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN

Dear Beautiful: I am addressing my remarks to YOU because that letter was no more written by a man than this answer is being written by a monkey — and no cracks, please.

The head waiter's remark was tactless and it obviously irritated Frieda. Had she been genuinely fond of you, however, she would not have become completely unhinged.

The beautiful woman who is friendless is not friendless because she is beautiful. She is friendless because she refuses to exert the energy to make other people feel comfortable.

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is serious but if I tried to discuss it with my parents they'd laugh it off.

I am 17 and smarter than most people think. Also I have two perfectly good eyes in my head and I don't miss much. My 26-year-old brother married a well-stacked good-looking sex kitten, age 22. She can't seem to keep her eyes or her hands off my boy friend. I don't know if I should talk to my parents or my boy friend. Or should I go straight to my brother? — MISS INDECISION

Dear Miss: Don't go to anybody. If your boy friend is inclined to play games with your brother's wife he will do so and he won't ask your permission, Toots. If he is NOT so inclined, Sex Kitten is wasting her time and she will end up making a fool of herself.

Alcohol is no shortcut to social success. If you think you have to drink to be accepted by your friends, get the facts. Read "Booze and You — For Teen-Agers Only" by Ann Landers. Send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

DEADLY DESIGNS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An architect, Norman Baur, says the architectural style of most church buildings may unwittingly be contributing to the "God-is-dead" school of thought.

"Most of our temples of worship today are neither traditional nor contemporary," says Baur, also a Methodist missions executive. "The majority are non-descript, uninspiring, water-down versions of a copy of some previous copy. They are in the words of Scripture, 'neither cold nor hot.' They are only 'lukewarm.'"

Twenty Retired Teachers Attend December Dinner

The December meeting of the Warren Boro Retired Teachers Association was held at the home of Miss Elizabeth VanLuvane and Mrs. Rachel Ralston, 110 Central ave., on Wednesday. Twenty members were present for the dinner which was served shortly after noon.

For the business meeting which followed, Miss Alice Anderson, president, presided. During the meeting an interesting letter from former school superintendent, John G. Rossman, was read. Mr. Rossman is now residing in Ocala, Florida.

Besides the two hostesses, the following committee assisted with the dinner arrangements: Ellen Thoreson, Frances O'Neill and Marion Berg.

The January meeting will be held at the home of the Misses Camilla and Catherine Henderson of 604 Water St., on Wednesday, January 5. The committee appointed to assist the hostesses in planning the dinner is comprised of Beba Cole, Alice Anderson and Grace Bell.

CVCC Welcomes The New Year 1967

Cascading icicles, black and silver men's operahats, a roaring fireplace and shimmering silver bells were the decorations which helped create the festive atmosphere for the annual Conewago Valley Country Club's New Year's Eve dinner dance.

The gala evening began at 8 o'clock, followed by dining and dancing to the music of the popular Jim Beatty and His Orchestra from 10 o'clock to 2 o'clock. At midnight the New Year of 1967 was ushered in in the traditional manner, with a serpentine line of the one hundred and thirty-five members and guests present, all wearing colorful party hats and making full use of the various noise makers distributed.

Among those attending were Mr. William Crossett, club president, with Mrs. Crossett and party chairman Mr. and Mrs. William Houston. Others serving on committee for the affair included Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kottaba, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Culbertson, Mr. and Mrs. Henri LeMour.

This gala evening officially closes the social program at the club for the winter; it will begin its new 1967 planned program of social events at Eastertime.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Both sides vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠102 ♥J10742 ♦A10 ♣KQ5
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
3 ♠ 4 Dble. ?

What do you bid?
A.—This will be an adequate dummy for a vulnerable player who was willing to undertake a nine-trick commitment. Even though spades break badly I would feel confident of fulfilling the contract. On this line of reasoning a redouble is recommended. There is the added advantage that such action may induce West, who has admitted that he has not a strong hand, to run out to four hearts.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠103 ♥K5 ♦AKQ7543 ♣K4
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♥ 2 ♣ Pass 2 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Three no trump. You can contribute seven tricks to the cause and it would be strange indeed if partner could not help along with two, in view of the fact that he acted without your solicitation. If your answer was three diamonds, you may hide your blushes in the nearest corner.

Q. 3—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠97 ♥74 ♦J97532 ♣K53
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ 2 ♣ ?

What do you bid?
A.—Discretion calls for a pass. If there were any assurance that this would prove to be the final contract, a vociferous double would be in order. But it is reasonable to expect that partner, relying upon you for certain high card values because of your double, will take some step that will be distasteful to you, such as doubling the rescue bid, toward the defeat of which you will be able to contribute little or nothing.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠K9642 ♥KJ63 ♠KQ104
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass 5 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—On the basis of your partner's strong bidding there can be little doubt that the trump suit is solid. It will be observed that North has passed an easy chance to show the ace of diamonds so that it may be assumed that he does not have that card. This makes all the more convincing that there is no trump loser. So that a grand slam bid in spades is quite in order.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KJ ♥AK765 ♦KQ54 ♣AK
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 3 ♣ Pass 3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. Any further conversation on your part would be mere filibuster. North may have as little as six points and you have but 22 with no fit established.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KJ65 ♥A10 ♦J32 ♣AKJ8
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass 1 ♥ Dble. Pass 2 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. Partner has been brought into the auction, perhaps much against his will, and he may have little or nothing. A bid of two spades would be bad tact, and a call of two no trumps would be the act of a man who looks upon currency with complete disdain.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AK104 ♥AJ ♠KQJ864 ♣5
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ 2 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♣ Pass ?

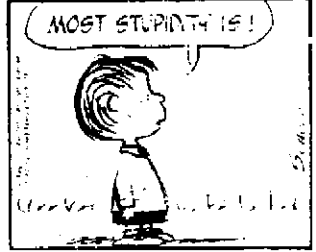

What do you bid now?
A.—Partner may not have much high card strength but he ought to have great length in hearts, which is enough for your purposes. A raise to four hearts is, therefore, recommended. Nothing is to be gained by rebidding the diamonds. Partner may be unable to carry on.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠J3 ♥AQ5 ♦AQ8 ♣AKJ104
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ 1 ♠ 1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR TUESDAY, JANUARY 3, 1967

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — First-rate endeavor will keep your day at high standard its generous influences indicate. You may find, to your surprise, that "tricky" tasks prove easier than ordinary ones.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — A better-than-average day—one which encourages your best efforts. If faced with some minor disappointment, try to be philosophical and take it in stride. Don't fret.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — This day will call for your steadiest efforts. Make all decisions in your naturally unbiased and far-sighted manner. In conferences, be discreet, but stand on your principles.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Excellent lunar influences stimulate all your interests now. This is the time to take advantage of every available opportunity and put yourself high on the list of winners. You can eclipse past performances.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Be neither too gullible nor too skeptical. Several suggestions may be offered—some good, some otherwise. Be objective, impersonal in your judgment. Avoid rumor-mongering.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — You will need a good sense of proportion and understanding to cope with this day's intricacies and complexities. Your innate perceptiveness should help, however. Back this up with SELF-CONFIDENCE.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (LIBRA) — Vigor must be accompanied by sure-footedness; enthusiasm by ability and know-how. Don't attempt any undertaking without sufficient knowledge of all factors involved.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio) — Good Mars influences. There's much you can attain now. Your dynamic personality can shine, and your adaptability will help in unusual situations.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Mixed planetary influences call for steadfastness now. Don't make hasty decisions and DO avoid the Sagittarian tendency toward secretiveness. Others involved in your activities need SOME clue to what you're about.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Day offers new incentive for forging ahead. It will be important, however, to emphasize stability, carefully systematize all procedures.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Put forth best efforts and be on guard against carelessness. Some unexpected situations will require unusual concentration if they are to be solved.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Benefits indicated if you are alert, but opportunities could be lost through indifference or tendencies toward extremism.

YOU BORN TODAY are a composite of bravery, determination, willingness to strive against tremendous odds and intuitive powers. You are suited to leadership in business or industry, to the law, to the entertainment field or any enterprise which involves dealing with the public. You are never satisfied with mediocre results. In skills, you seek perfection. Avoid tendencies toward arrogance and impulsiveness, however.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

OUTBREAKS OF TB

In an analysis of more than a hundred epidemics of tuberculosis in 12 countries, it was found that the outbreaks had certain circumstances in common. In the first place, a large number of those exposed to the germs lacked immunity (tuberculin negative); secondly, the disseminator usually had a large number of tubercle bacilli in his sputum.

The concentration of germs spewed into the air depends not only upon the number expelled in the sputum but upon the fluidity of the discharge and the frequency and forcefulness of coughing. Of equal importance is whether the infected individual covers the mouth when coughing.

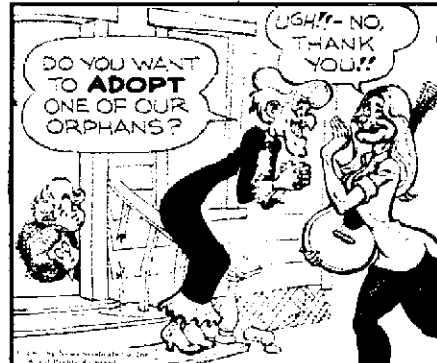

Three out of four of the epidemics were in schools, but adults, rather than youngsters were responsible. Teachers usually are the source but epidemics have been traced to a bus driver, custodian, or cook. Older children and adolescents with chronic pulmonary tuberculosis are responsible occasionally.

Eight members of a British military band developed active tuberculosis within a short period of time. The source of the infection was a young clarinet player. It was believed that the disease spread rapidly because band players exhale more air than average persons and do so with greater force. The air contains a greater concentration of bacilli in the circumstances.

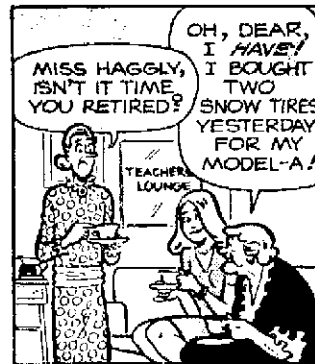

Most epidemics develop within a short time. It is not difficult to pinpoint the source if all in contact with the victims agree to a tuberculin test and chest X-ray. The infected adult or adolescent should be treated in a sanatorium. The adolescent should not return to school until the disease is arrested for three to six months. Young children can be treated at home. Those having no symptoms can return to school provided they are under medical supervision and receive isoniazid or PAS for at least a year.

NEEDS Carpet Cover

Unlike hard-surfaced mats with no dirt absorbing qualities, Carpet Cover has a super-tough NYLON TOP that absorbs and hides dirt and water in the pile. Wipes boots and shoes clean...drastically reduces maintenance costs.

The backing is VINYL which is more skid resistant than rubber, and won't become rubber-brittle with age. Grips floor...prevents falls...protects floors against spike heel damage.

Tracked-in dirt costs $100 a lb. in floor damage and maintenance. Carpet Cover traps it!

Industry Outlook
Good, Some Say

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department painted an optimistic picture last night for American industry during 1967 but indicated again that the volume of construction will dip moderately.
It predicts strong gains for household furniture and color television and says overall automobile output should equal 1966 levels although production early in the year will be below the same period last year.
The rosey over-all picture comes in the annual "Outlook" published by the department's Business and Defense Services Administration analyzing prospects for 60 per cent of all manufacturing.
It says 14 of the 78 industries will grow by more than 10 per cent during 1967, another 37 anticipate increases between 5 and 10 per cent and 24 expect to expand by less than 5 per cent. No comparable estimates were made for the other three.
The department says it assumes a Gross National Product during 1967 of $785 billion in making its estimates, a figure some economists still are projecting for 1966.
In its construction section, the report forecasts a slight increase in dollar volume to $76.1 billion but says the increase will be offset by rising prices.
In home building, it says the volume of mortgage funds will be at a relatively low level during 1967 despite some expected easing of tight home loan money. Housing starts, plagued by tight money, dropped during the fall to their lowest level since World War II.
The report foresees a rise from this low level but not to what the industry considers normal. It predicts a 1967 level for housing starts at between 1,05 million and 1,15 million compared with 1,54 million for 1965.
Nonresidential building will surpass housing for the first time in the postwar period, the report adds.
All types of industrial and business machinery producers expect further gains to record levels during 1967, the department says, although the rate of increase probably will be slower than 1966.
Defense buying, the report finds, will be reflected in copper, nickel, basic steel, aerospace vehicles, lumber products, electronic equipment and apparel.
Production projections in the summary include:
— Automobiles — Unit output of 8.7 million cars, equalling 1966 estimated production but the industry will probably begin the year with output levels below the same period in 1966.
— Machine tools — Up 8 per cent to $2.5 billion.
— Refrigeration and air-conditioning equipment — A 15 per cent advance to $3.5 billion.
— Office machines and computers — Up 8 per cent to $3 billion.
— Consumer electronic products — Up more than 16 per cent to $4.6 billion with color television strong.

200 Skiers
Locked in Ski Resort

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — More than 200 skiers were locked inside lodges at a Utah ski resort yesterday as a precaution against avalanches after a heavy snow storm.
Crews battled to open roads to two ski areas and to keep roads open through northern Utah as the storm swept eastward into Wyoming and Colorado.
In southern Idaho, a man was found dead after he had attempted to get help after his family had spent one night in a stalled car. They had been sleigh-riding.
The Weather Bureau predicted clearing conditions in the northern Utah-southern Idaho area as the storm moved east.
U.S. Forest Service snow rangers ordered doors locked at 6 a.m. at all lodges at Alta, ski resort high in the Wasatch Mountains about 20 miles east of Salt Lake City.
The action was taken to protect them from avalanche danger after more than 27 inches of snow had fallen in 24 hours. It was still snowing hours later, and the snow rangers used 106 mm recoilless rifles and dynamite charges to blast down snow accumulations.

Lost Needles
Mean Trouble,
Doctors Declare

CHICAGO (AP) — A needle in the carpet is found too often by the knees of women and children, two doctors assert, and the result is usually severe injury.
A report on 21 such cases in Dearborn, Mich., and St. Louis, was published today in the Journal of the American Medical Association.
Trouble often comes when a housewife drops a sewing needle and then kneels on the carpet to look for it. The result, said Drs. R. H. Ramsey of Dearborn and Floyd G. Goodman of St. Louis, is predictable —
"A flash of pain in one knee. She gasps, leaps to her feet. Blindly, she yanks the tiny steel shaft from her flesh and applies an antiseptic to the wound."
But, straightening the knee often breaks the needle shaft, leaving part of it imbedded in the knee joint to irritate nerves and tissue at every movement.
Needle fragments, the doctors said, should be removed by surgery after careful X-ray checks to locate fragments.

SENATORS IN FAVOR

Anti-Filibustering
Movement Growing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bipartisan group of six senators made public last night a letter to their colleagues urging support for a move to make it easier to cut off Senate filibusters.
The letter says the fight for a change will be launched as soon as the 90th Congress convenes Jan. 10. Central to the parliamentary battle will be rulings once made by Lyndon B. Johnson and Richard M. Nixon. And the outcome may be decided by a ruling from Hubert H. Humphrey.
Target of the move is Senate Rule 22 requiring a two-thirds majority of the senators voting to cut off debate, but exactly what change will be sought was left up in the air.
"A change must be secured that, while protecting the right of full debate, will enable a majority of senators ultimately to resolve an issue by voting," the letter says.
An accompanying memorandum says: "The large body of senators favoring modification of the cloture (debate-closing) rule is divided into three groups:
"Those favoring a change from two-thirds to three-fifths of those present and voting; those favoring cloture by constitutional majority, or 51 members; and those favoring a simple majority of the members present and voting."
But it says the group is not divided on the principle that at the start of a new Congress, after a reasonable time for debate, "a majority of the Senate has the constitutional right to change its rules free of obstruction from past Senators."
Opponents of any change in the present two-thirds rule contend that the Senate, with only one-third of its members elected every two years, is a continuing body and its rules automatically carry over.
The bipartisan group wants to establish that the Senate has a right to determine its rules by majority vote without having to muster a two-thirds majority to break a filibuster against a proposed change.

Infantry Division Takes Cut of Poker Profits

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
 DI AN, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. 1st Division infantrymen fighting and dying in the jungles north and west of Saigon have one sure consolation. They know the Big Red One takes care of its own.

A cut of every poker pot, dice game, every beer blast goes to sending the sons of 1st Division soldiers killed in Vietnam to college on a scholarship financed by the GIs themselves.

In four months more than $50,000 has been collected, a dozen scholarships have been awarded and 80 more are being processed.

Units within the Big Red One vie with each other to see who can collect the most money in the shortest time. The 1st Battalion of the 28th Infantry raised $2,317 with a mammoth mess hall party that marked the outfit's first return to base camp in nearly a month.

Division headquarters officers mess promptly matched that by importing Australian stripper and juggler Julia Bellares from Saigon to pass the steel helmet at a holiday bash that netted $2,233. Informed of the reason for the party, Miss Bellares waived her $200 performance fee.

Now her record has been topped by "The Mays Boys," a cowboy band comprised of division helicopter mechanics who have raised more than $1,500 by playing mess halls and beer tents in their off duty hours.

The division scholarship fund is a direct sequel to the heroism of Sgt. Ralph Nunez of San Pedro, Calif., and the love he had for the Big Red One. Sgt. Nunez was killed in action last June.

He was the point man on a long-range reconnaissance patrol into the rain forests of War Zone C. A Viet Cong ambush caught the patrol crossing a narrow stream. Nunez lived long enough to pull out the antenna on his radio and contact the forward air controller. To call in an air strike that saved the lives of his buddies.

"My husband was very proud of his outfit, he loved the Big Red One," his widow, Mary Nunez, wrote Maj. Gen. William E. DePuy, the commanding general. "Like your men and many others in Vietnam, he did not die in vain. My heart aches for my three young sons. Eric, the oldest, who is four, one day will be told why his father did not return to us. He left and wanted so badly to return. They too will cry and their hearts will ache. But they will be ever so proud, their father died a hero, for all of us. My husband was so proud to be a part of you."

The widow's letter so touched the general and his staff that they decided to do something for the more than 900 1st Division soldiers, who have died in the jungles of Vietnam since the division arrived a year and a half ago.

The scholarship fund idea swept the division with a wave of enthusiasm. The motto, "The Big Red One takes care of its own," has since become one of the great morale incentives within the division, although the general insists that morale had nothing to do with the idea for the program.

So far, the division has raised enough money to provide $1,500 scholarships to a college or technical school for about half of the male offspring of its men killed in action. It was found, upon searching the files, that only about 150 of the more than 900 killed had male children. Most are young, about 3 to 5, and the money doesn't have to be paid out until they reach college age, so the scholarship money will be invested. It is expected almost to double in value with interest.

The general also hopes to interest a private philanthropic organization in matching what the GIs raise. The fund is administered by the Society of the 1st Division in Philadelphia, which invests the money and processes the scholarships.

The general, an inveterate poker player, sees to it that 10 per cent of all the pots in the general's mess go to the scholarship fund. Aides complain that he has coaxed at least $1,000 into the kitty by bluffing them out of their combat boots with nothing more than two deuces.

ANALYZE CONFUSING LAWS

North Carolina Dries Up

By BLOYS BRITT
 CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — You are a salesman and you're trying to mail down a contract in North Carolina.

You want to take your customer out for a drink before dinner.

Don't do it.

Or you and your wife are en route to Florida and make an overnight stop at one of North Carolina's highly advertised resort communities.

It is your custom to tinkle a little before dinner. Don't do it.

You can't even carry your own bottle to dinner. And if you pour a drink in your hotel or motel room make sure the door is closed.

That, in essence, is the way

Chicago Police Fired Upon; Arrest Snipers

CHICAGO (AP) — Scores of police surrounded an apartment building on the South Side yesterday after half a dozen shots had been fired on a passing squad car.

While police armed with shotguns and tear gas took cover behind squad cars and trees, other officers burst into a third floor apartment from which the shots had come.

Lt. Thomas Sullivan said two men, a woman and her two young children were in the apartment. An old shotgun eight spent shells and a box of loaded shells were found in the living room.

Sullivan said Moses Graham, 29, had admitted firing the shots. He and James Ellison, 22, were charged with attempted murder.

Theft of British Art Leaves Question: Why?

LONDON (AP) — One facet that perplexes Britons about the great art theft from the Dulwich College Gallery is—why?

What motivated the theft or thieves who broke into the gallery near London between Friday evening and Saturday morning and made off with eight painting masterpieces worth $7 million?

In the words of Sir John Rothstein, who was director of the Tate Gallery in London for nearly 30 years: "All motives seem to be improbable, but ransom is the least improbable."

The three Rembrandts and the three Rubens—as well as the two works by the lesser classic artists, Gerald Dow, a pupil of Rembrandt, and Adam Elsheimer—are world known and could hardly be sold to any gallery or collector.

In fact, Rembrandt's "Girl at a Window" is one of the world's greatest art treasures because of its charm and the psychological depth that only Rembrandt could give to a subject often treated by other Dutch painters.

The theory was advanced shortly after the theft that a mad millionaire engineered the theft so he could sit and gloat over his ill-gotten masterpieces. But James Fitton, a trustee of the Royal Academy who put forth this suggestion, had Monday a more mundane theory: "I think it was the work of just an ordinary burglary gang which was misled by high auction prices."

The ransom theory is the most popular among police. The paintings were not injured.

As Sir Kenneth Clark, art expert who had been director of the national gallery, put it: "The motive is usually to collect the insurance. In this case, perhaps the robbers did not know that insurance was impossible."

It would thus appear that the thieves have no clear idea—or way—of cashing in on the pictures. Most paintings stolen in recent years have been recovered when the thieves found that possession of them was too dangerous.

then went to the U.S. Supreme Court but Associate Justice William O. Douglas refused to stay enforcement of the attorney general's decisions.

Holiday parties, conventions and night life dried up reluctantly but quickly, sales of beer, wine and champagne, which can be consumed legally in public, went up.

That's where the situation stands now.

There have been few arrests. Police spokesmen say there is little they can do to enforce the law.

Bradford Tax Cut

BRADFORD—A reduction of one and one-half mills in the 1967 tax accompanied adoption of the 1967 municipal budget of $888,924 at a special meeting of City Council. The budget was approved on a 3 to 2 vote with Councilmen Ann Rose and John A. Still dissenting.
